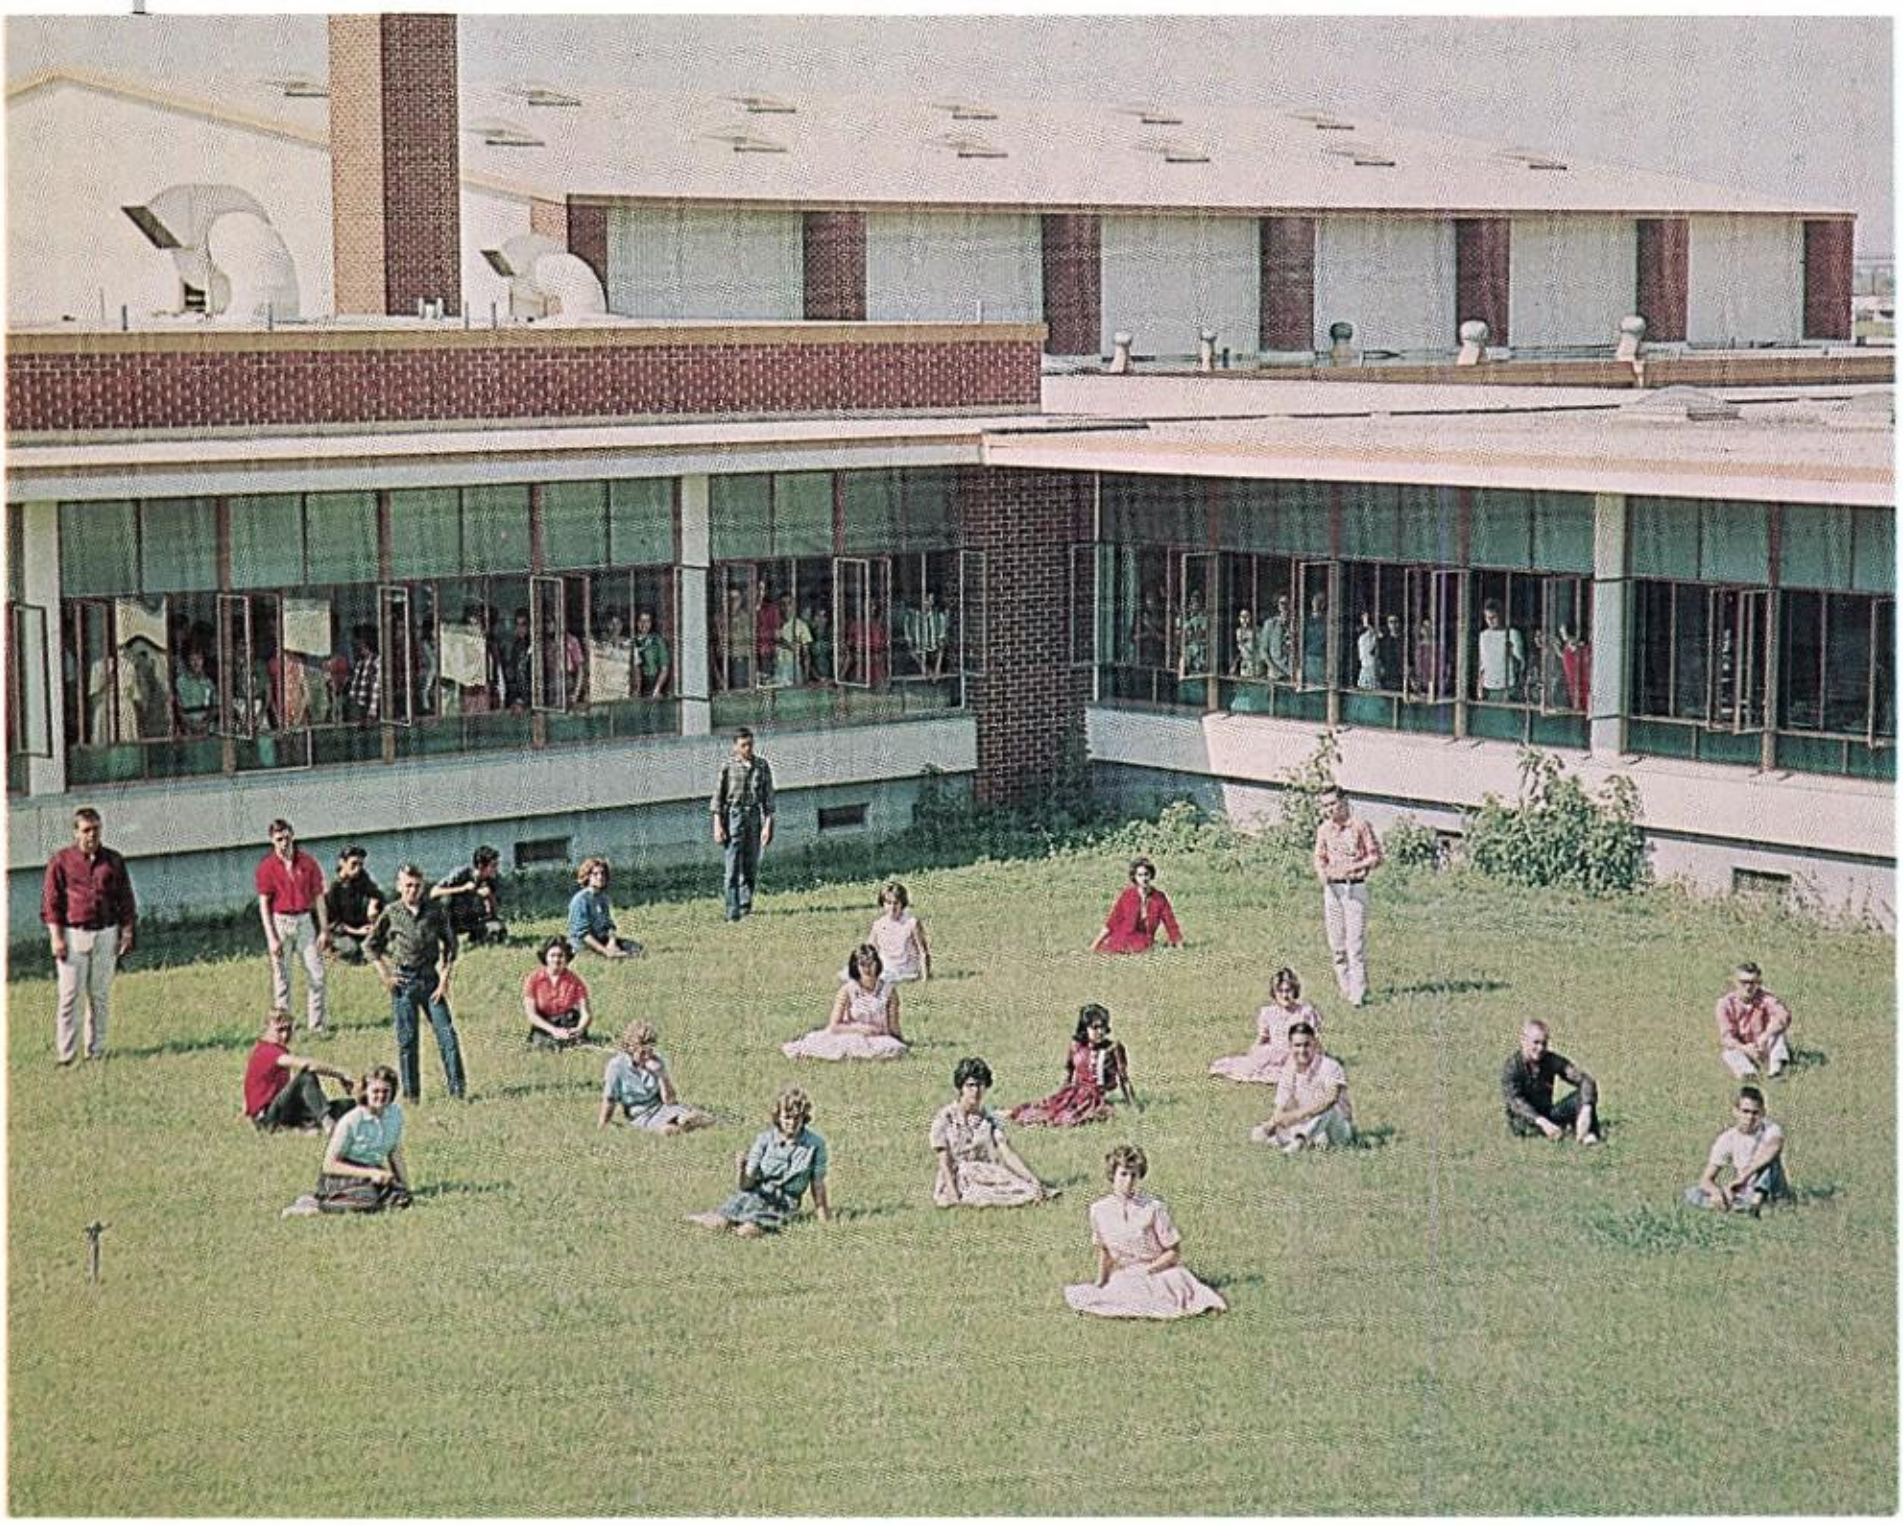
CAT TALE '64

Dedicated to Progress, past and present, in the South San Antonio schools.



The 1964 CAT TALE presents a pictorial review of the four phases of student activities - Instructional, Honorary, Physical, and Organizational.

The cheerleaders for this year are seen with the school's mascot, the Bobcat. Who knows what they may be planning for the next game?

Colorfully - attired students add to the scene of the area between the first and second wing.

CAMPUS VIEWS

The growth of South San Antonio High School's campus has been a continuous one since its beginning. Progress is best shown in the fact the faculty has grown to 50, while the student body now numbers 1027.

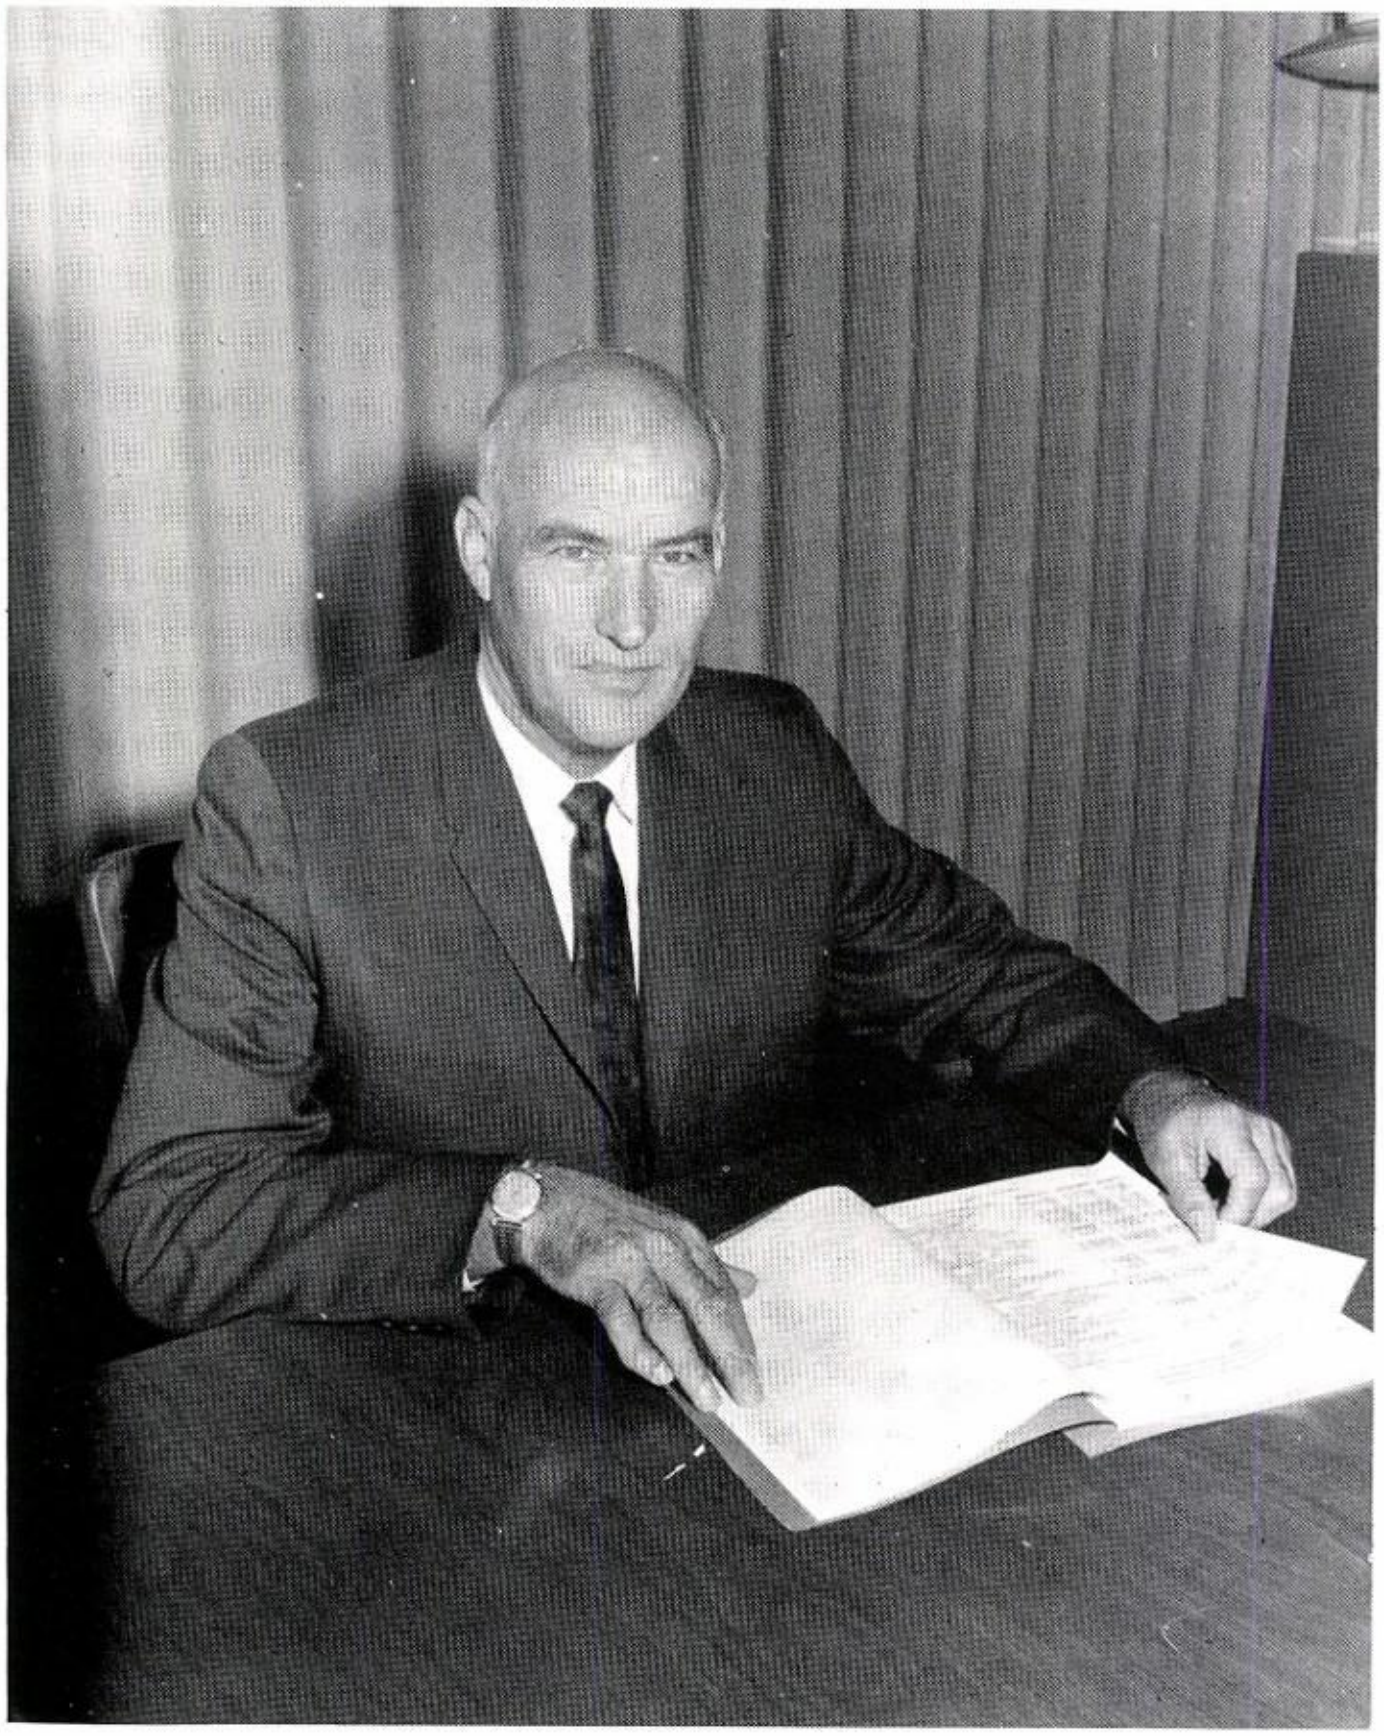
Instructional

The student pictured above could be any South San Antonio High School student as exam time draws near! Midnight oil burns long into the night as pupils pour time and effort into the academic side of school life.

On the morning that school starts, the students of the coming year receive instructions for registration. Here they all seem enthused as Mr. Kelly tells them of the expectations and activities ahead. Some are entering a new phase of life in high school as freshmen and others have listened to this speech before. The seniors are listening for the last time, but all are looking forward to the new year in South San Antonio High School.



MR. MORRIS S. JENNINGS, superintendent of schools, is shown examining the annual report proof of steady growth of our school district.

Administration

Responsibilities of administering school affairs is capably executed by school officials, supported by the Board of Education, a group of men who give freely of their time to make certain our community has the best schools possible.

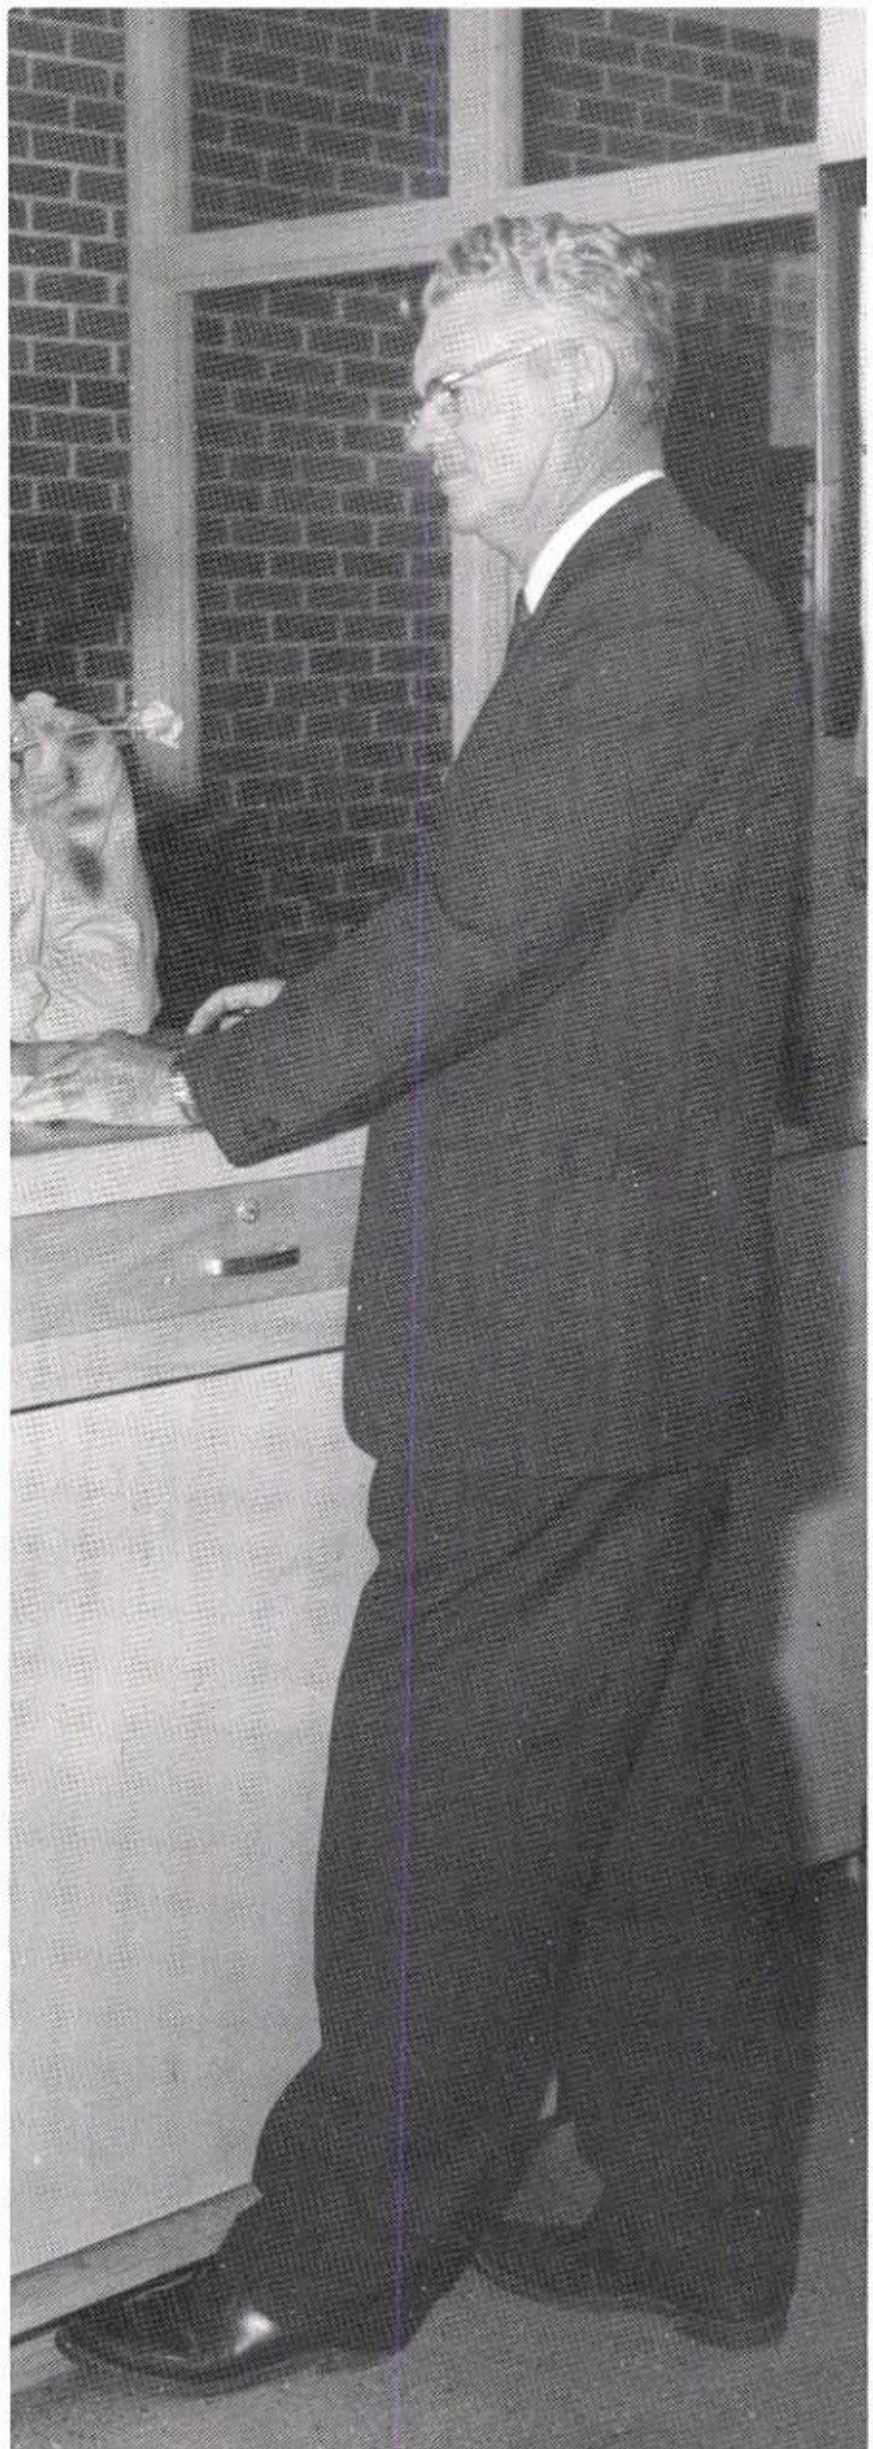
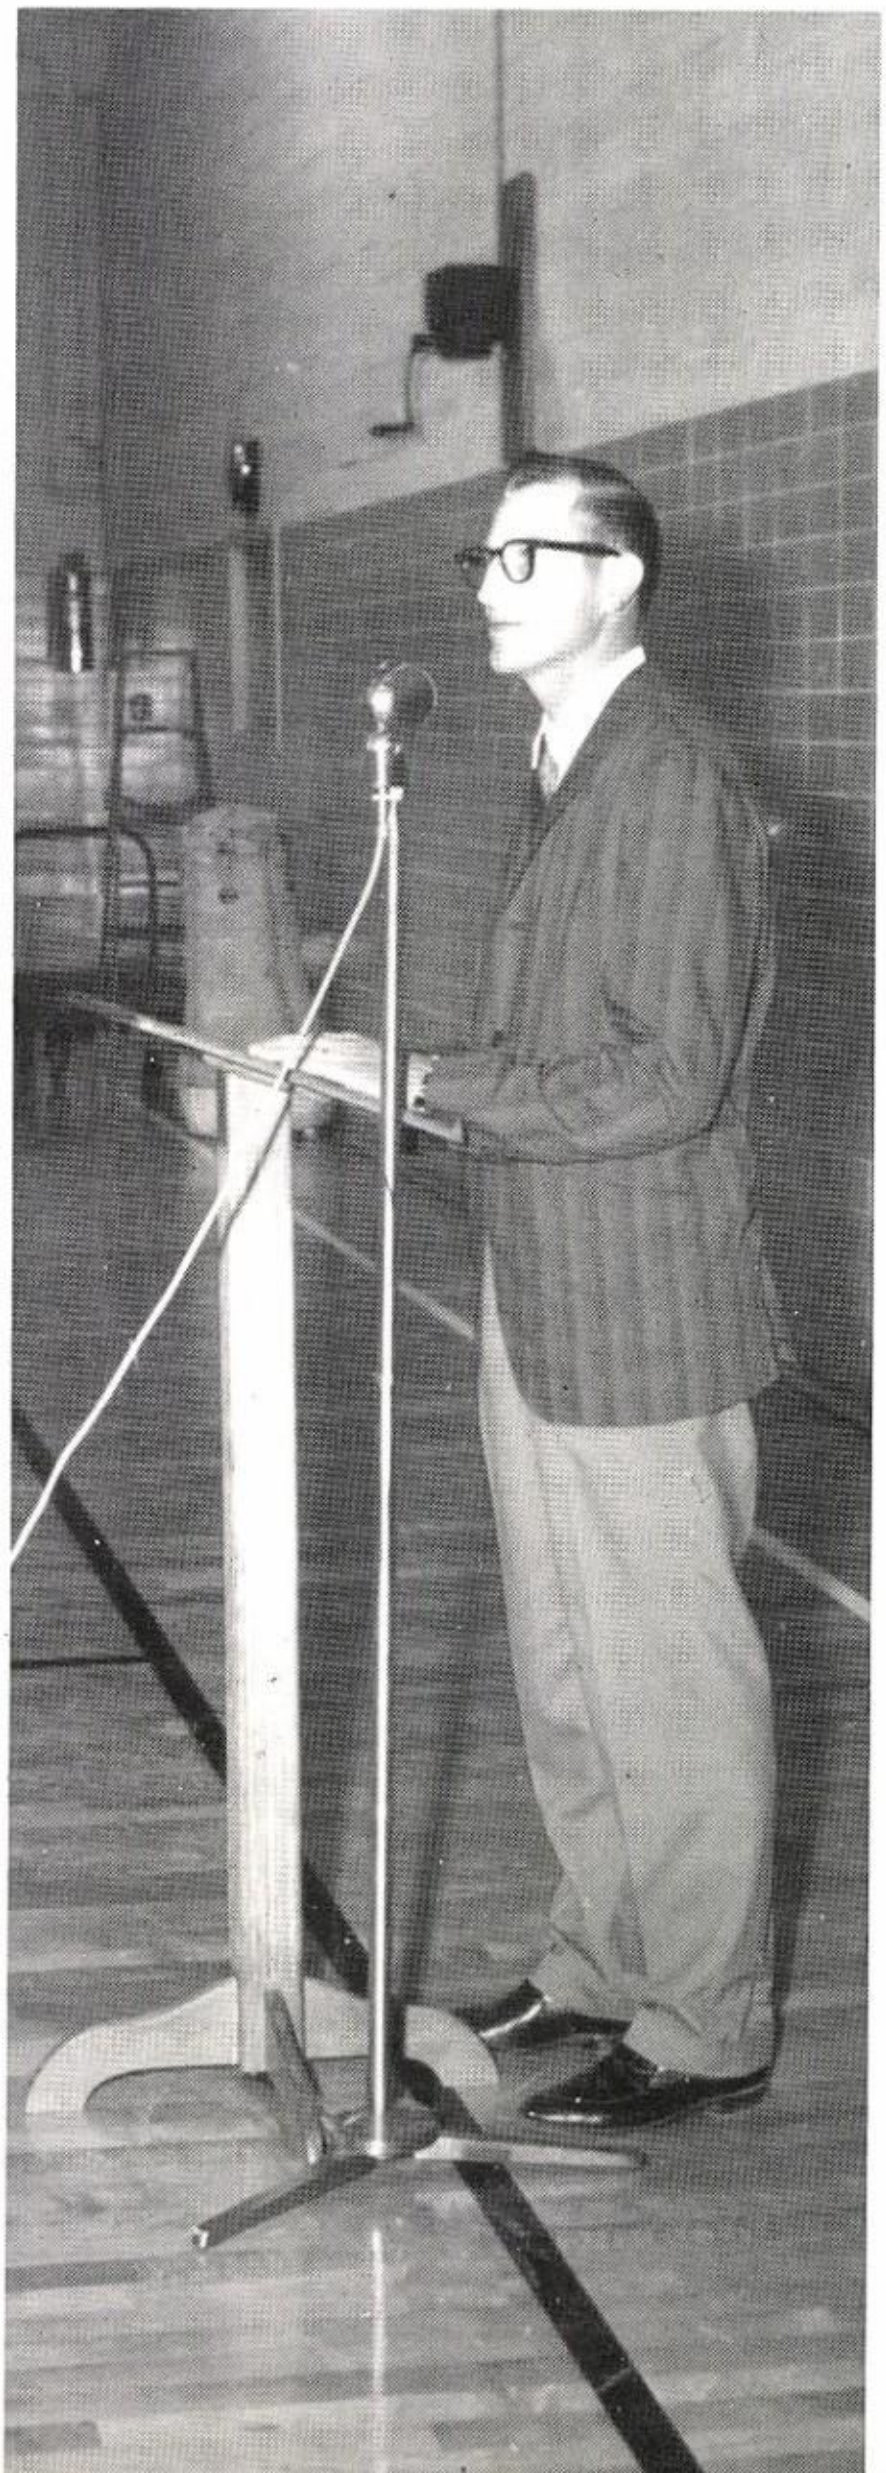
MR. CECIL W. WILLIAMS, assistant superintendent



MR. JAMES A. KELLEY, principal, by his every action demonstrates a warm regard for one and all, whether he's discussing school activities at his desk (above), or solving student problems (right), in his outer office.



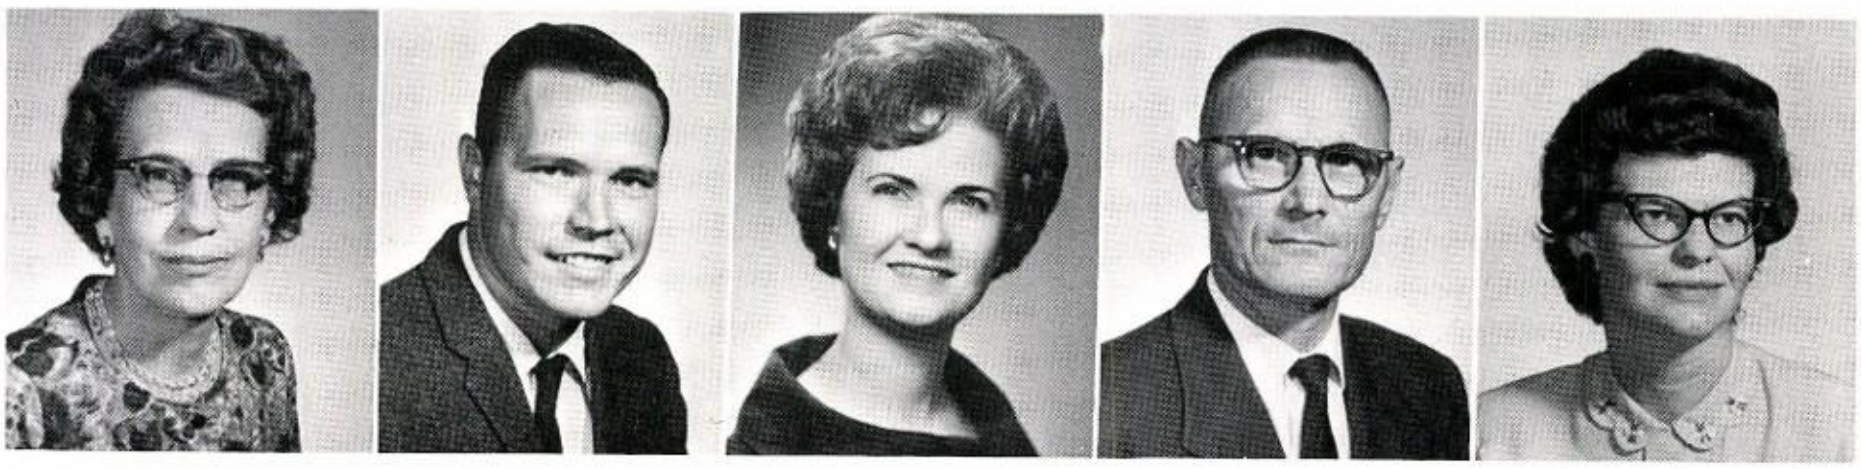
MR. WARREN W. UECKER, assistant principal, is shown in poses familiar to every member of the student body, (left) acting as master of ceremonies at bi-monthly assemblies, and (above) counseling with students about schedule changes, behaviour, etc.

Each Thursday morning at 8:00, the faculty meets to discuss problems and make plans for their work.

Faculty

The 1963-64 faculty of fifty members directs the work of the seventeen departments that make up the high school curriculum. They are the backbone of the school and will build a sturdy foundation for the students to develop.

Business Education Growth is Steady



Mrs. Madelene Croft Mr. Jack Burkholder Miss Molly Robbins Mr. Walter H. Hafner Mrs. Wilma McCrury

This year, the Business Department offered eight classes in Typing I, four classes in Typing III, four classes in Stenography I, one class in Stenography II, five classes in Bookkeeping and one class in Business Law. This shows the growth of the department since 1959, when there was only one Bookkeeping class, one Shorthand class and three Typing classes offered. At that time, the Department was staffed by only one teacher; this year, there are five teachers in the Business Department.

Their primary purpose is to train our students to become qualified office workers upon graduation from high school.

Antonia requests Mr. Hafner's aid in unsticking her fingers from the keys.

Four years of English are taught: the first semester is given to study of grammar and composition; the second, to literature. Three years of English are required for graduation. The fourth year is elective but recommended for all, and especially those that will go to college.

This year, the English department has used the method of programmed learning as an experiment in teaching grammar and composition. Its value is reflected in improved expression of ideas.

In addition to daily study, pupils report on recreational reading. The junior and senior English Classes prepare research papers.

SPEECH

Two years in Spanish are offered to enable students to obtain speaking, reading, and writing knowledge of a modern foreign language. It enables them to acquire a cultural understanding of the people whose language they are learning.

The fine art of speech may be said to be based on a theme and variations. With the basic fundamentals of public speaking, students gain poise and self-confidence while learning to construct and deliver various types of speeches. Emphasis is given to good voice development and the improvement of diction.

Extracurricular speech activities include senior and junior full-length plays. The UIL competition offers additional speech activities with the one-act play, prose and poetry interpretation, persuasive and extemporaneous speaking, and debate.

Homemaking Education Meets Many

We are indeed proud of our Homemaking Department. We have been told by many people who have visited it that ours is the most attractive and best-equipped homemaking department in the city of San Antonio.

The South San Antonio Homemaking Department's philosophy of homemaking education is one that encourages the student, as a member of the family, to continually grow, physically, intellectually, socially, and spiritually.

Homemaking education is centered on home activities and relationships which enable youth to assume the responsibilities of homemaking as family members today and later as they establish their own homes. The major purpose of vocational homemaking education is to prepare youth and adults for the occupation of homemaking. The program is designed to assist individuals in acquiring homemaking skills and an understanding of human relationships which will help them achieve satisfying home living. Some emphasis may be given to the application of homemaking skills to wage earning situations, and opportunities for careers in the home economics fields.

The specific areas of instruction covered at the different levels are:

1. Child Care and Child Development
2. Clothing and textiles
3. Family Relations
4. Foods and Nutrition
5. Health and Home Care of the Sick
6. Housing and Home Management

Three years of Homemaking are offered in regular class work, with one credit for each year, I, II, and III. In addition, one may earn one-half credit in each of two summers in Summer Home Experiences in Homemaking, provided she has credit for a year of homemaking preceding each summer's work, making a total of a possible four credits in homemaking.

Practical Aims Through Its Projects

These girls know that homemaking is not all sewing and cooking. Before actually doing these things, they must do some studying too.

Homemaking students get a few tips from an experienced seamstress. Mrs. Zellner tries to help each girl individually when time allows.

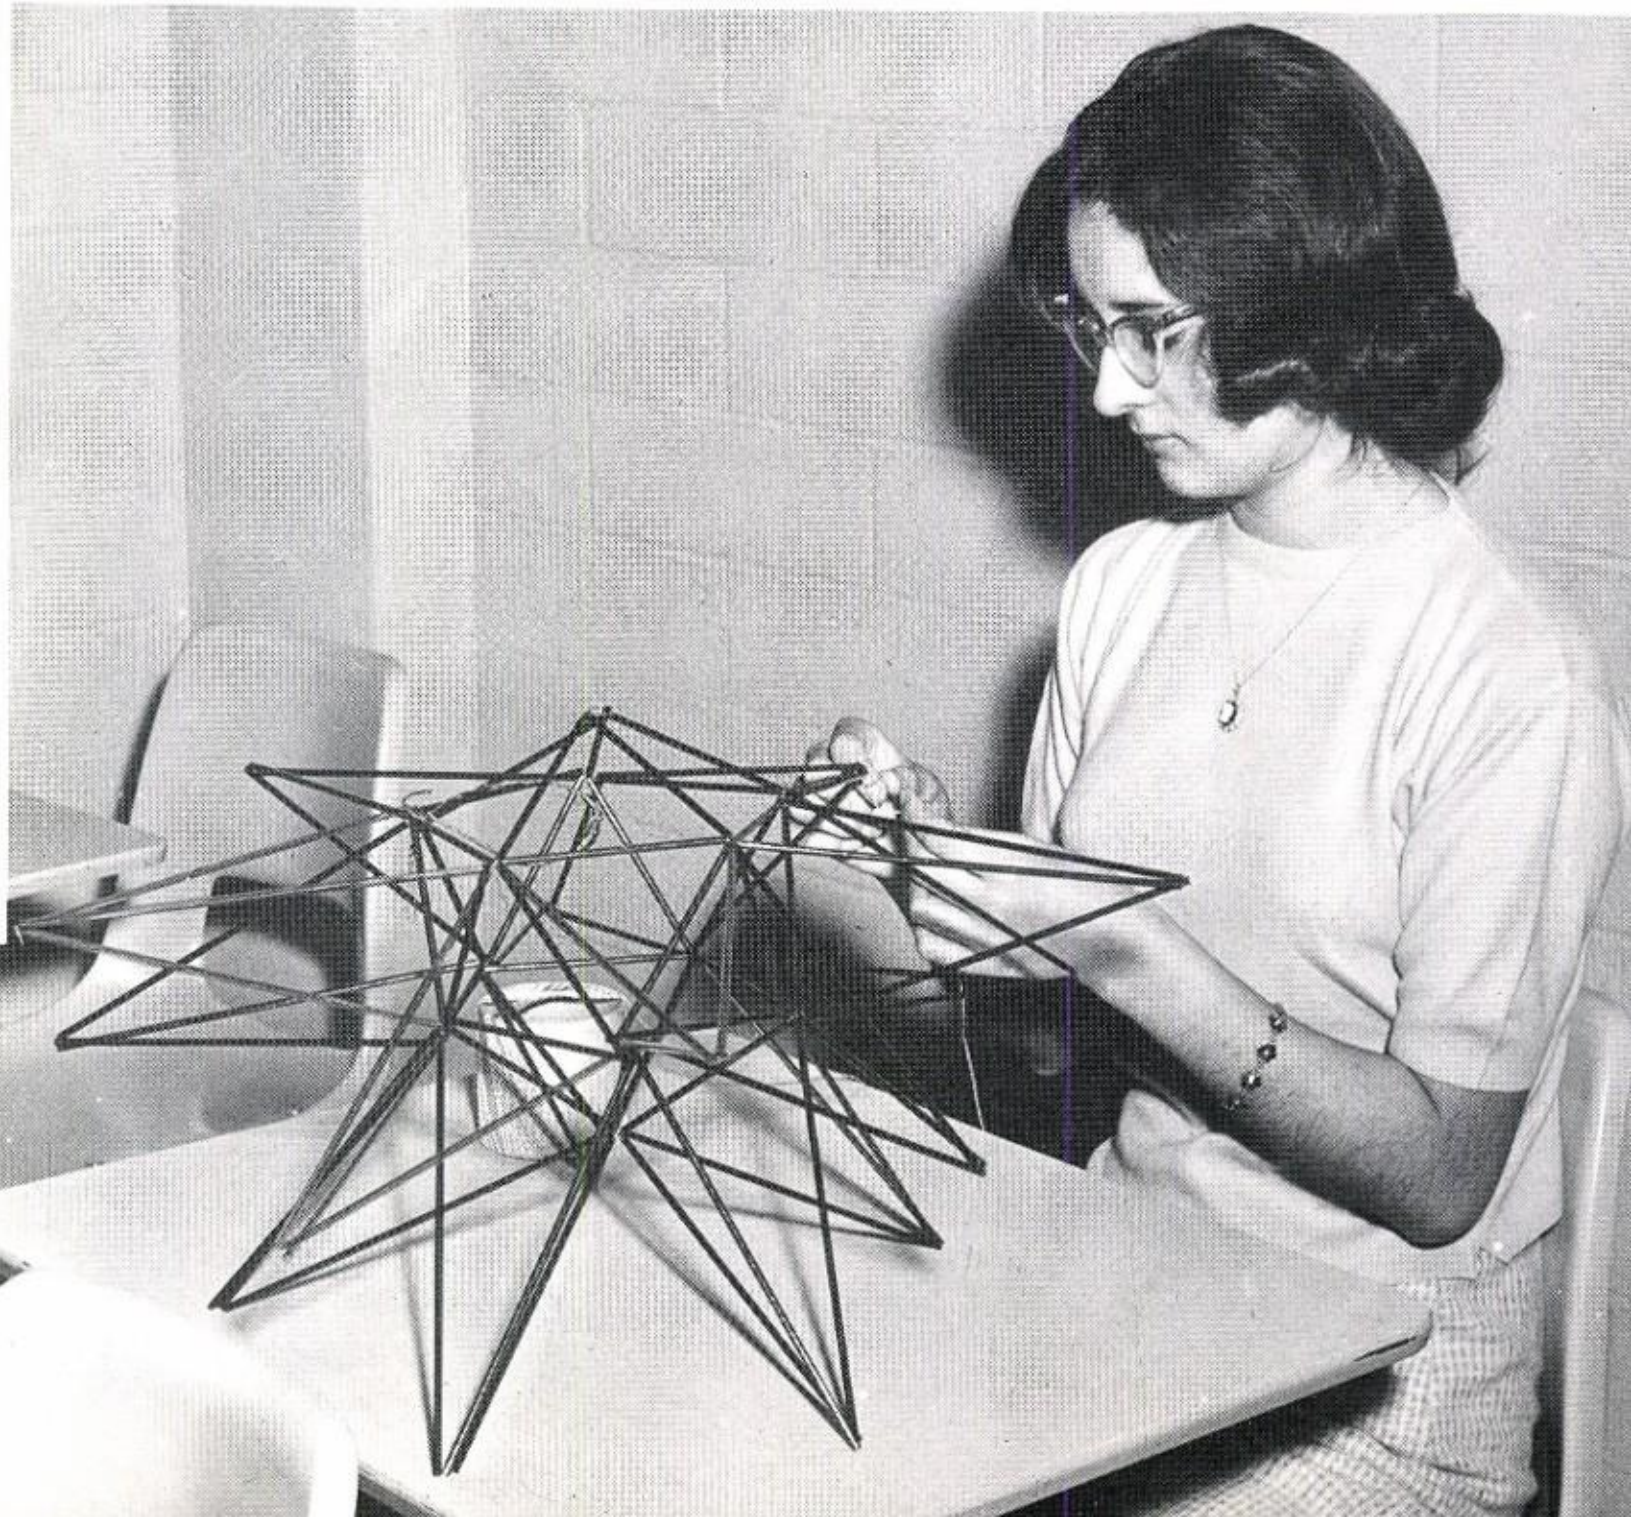
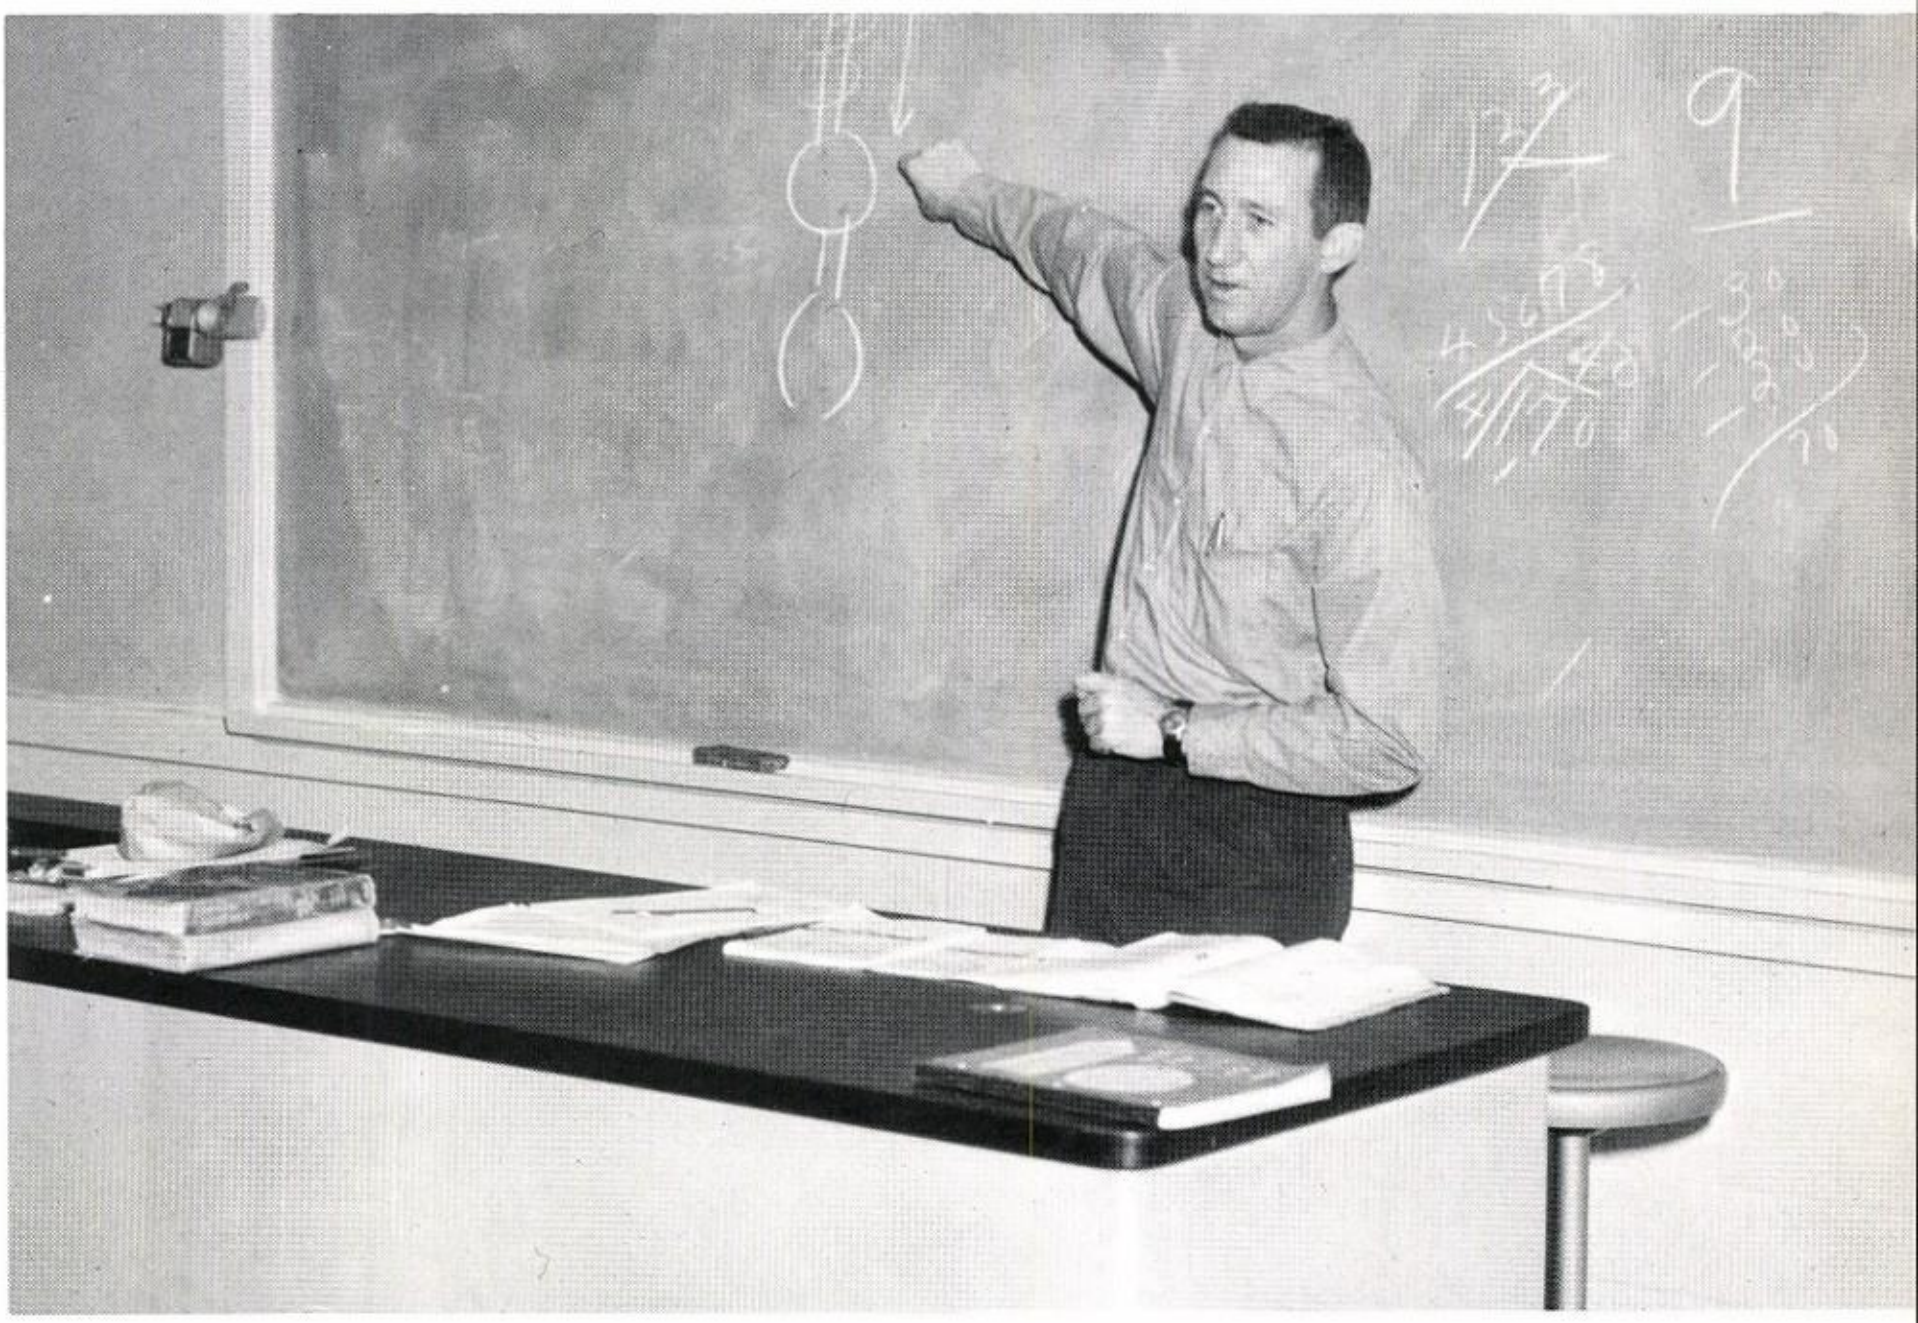
The importance of mathematics in today's world is unquestioned. Modern mathematics, its structure and use enables the student to think for himself, teaches him to reason logically, and reach valid conclusions.

Algebra I, Geometry, and Algebra II, for 9th, 10th and 11th grades, Trigonometry and General Analysis for 12th grade adequately prepare our students for the challenge of college work. General Math and Commercial Math, which still fulfills high school graduation requirements, permit the student to enter a working world with greater security and ability.

One of the annual projects in Mrs. Nichols' classes is making Christmas decorations for the halls and library. The construction of the stars demonstrate the figures done in geometry, as Yvonne Persing learns here.



To Meet Todays Needs Is Stressed



Mr. Brashier, in the Biology laboratory sees that everyone understands.

The function of the science department is to meet the steadily growing needs of high school students. This is accomplished by offering a variety of courses.

General Science, a freshman course, deals with all aspects of science in a general way.

The Biology department helps the sophomore student to understand the plants and animals of the world.

Chemistry and Physics, junior or senior level courses, are offered to the student and to persons interested in advance science. Chemistry covers all phases of the chemical work, while Physics deals especially with electronics, as well as other topics.

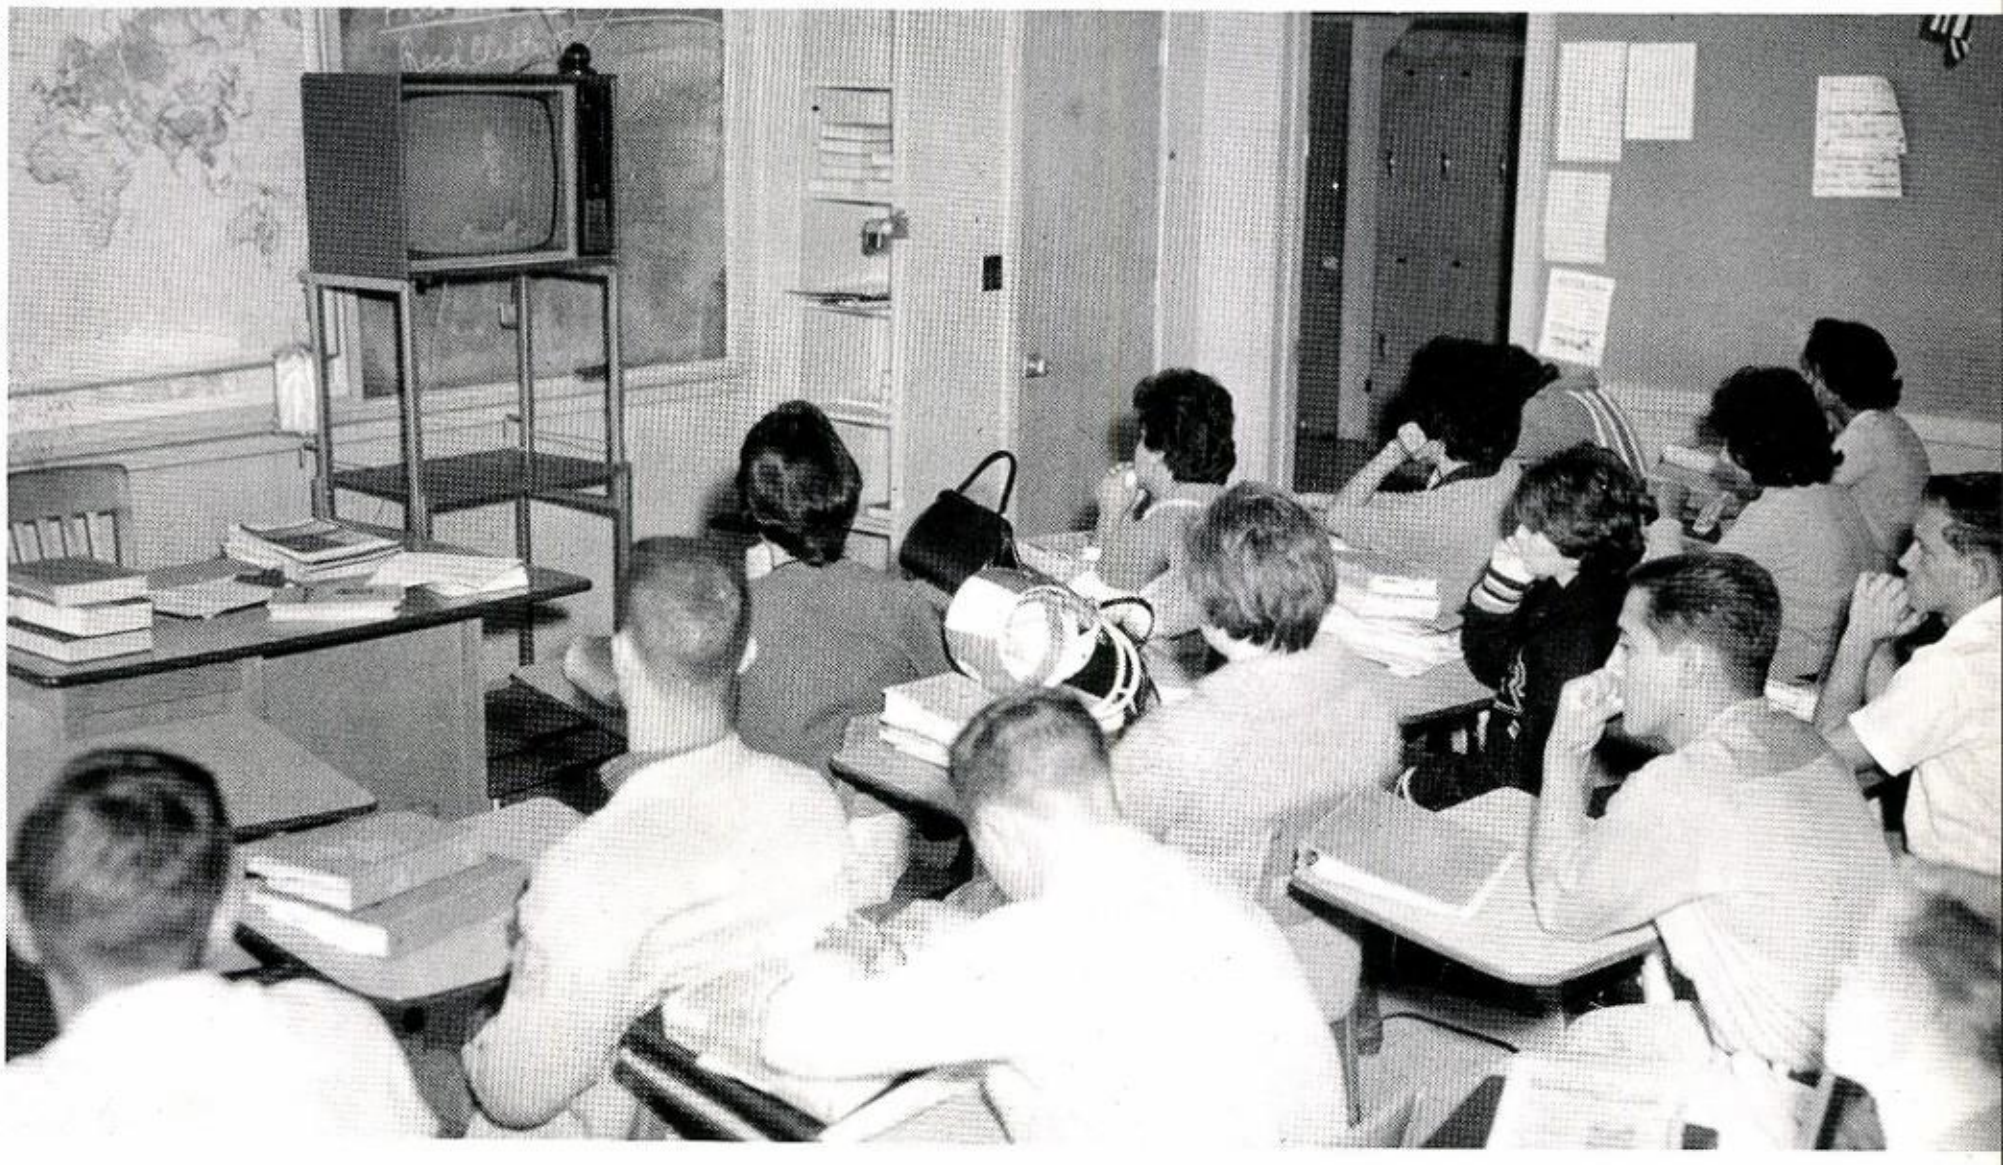
Meet Students' Vital Requirements



Miss Ortiz uses visual aids, such as television, to aid in the teaching of history.

The Social Studies Department of South San Antonio High School includes classes in Social Studies (Freshman), World History (Sophomore), American History (Junior) and Civics (Senior).

The purpose of the Social Studies Department is, first, to introduce the students to their role as present citizens and future voters; and, secondly, to give them an understanding of the fate of past civilizations, and the goals of contemporary nations; thirdly, to give students a historical background of the construction of their ancestors to carry on and improve our Republic; finally, to give students an insight into the organization national, state and local government and those factors necessary for a democratic government to succeed.

Included in these courses are units on Communism, Income Tax, and Texas and United States constitutions. These courses are supplemented with field trips.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

South San students are fortunate in being able to choose among electives such as Distributive Education, Journalism, and Industrial Arts.

In D.E., as we call it, class groups study school and store relationships, store speech, organization, inventory, and store or business math. This course is open to Juniors and Seniors only; they are in school for four classes daily (including D.E.), then go to work at 1:00 P.M.

The chief purpose in the Industrial Arts department is to give students a basic understanding of, and a working knowledge of, the processes involved in general woodworking, metalworking, and drafting. Courses emphasize hand tool skills and neatness in addition to knowledge of the various machines employed in industries. This in addition to the theory involved with the various areas comprised department goals.

Journalism in high school has three objectives: to encourage and train students interested in writing; to serve as a medium for building school spirit and publicizing the school activities; and to stimulate interest in the newspaper as a force in today's society.

The BOBCAT, school newspaper, is published biweekly by journalism pupils. In its twenty-ninth year (sponsored by Mrs. Sank Mayers except for one year), the BOBCAT has become a mirror, reflecting the curricular and extra-curricular activities of school.

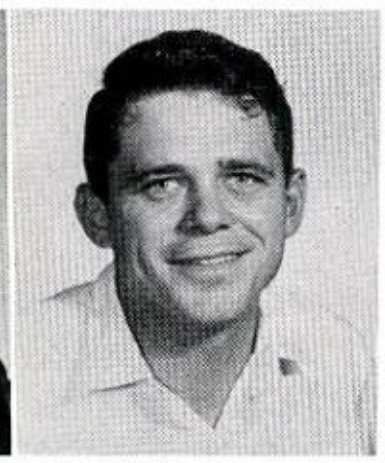
Mr. Melvin Meads
BAND

Mr. Wm. Kretzmeier
CHORAL



Music is an important part of the school, both curricular and extra-curricular. The department includes two active divisions: band and choral.

The purposes of the band department are two-fold: first, to teach students to develop an appreciation of music from classical to jazz, through actual application by performing on an instrument; second, to develop the talent of those who may display exceptional ability. Our Bobcat band is dramatic proof of the success of this plan.

The choir is continuing its program of improvement and attainment of a high degree of excellence. This year, the community can expect to hear more of this talented group than ever.

Mr. Meads guides the band through a number they will play in UIL contest, in the spring.

Curricular and Extra-Curricular Activities

Our library serves many purposes: primarily, it offers library facilities to students and faculty alike, with steadily increasing numbers of books, magazines, newspapers, pamphlets, clippings, etc. Mrs. Jones and her EIGHTY student assistants are always ready to help solve any research problem.

The library is often called "the hub of the school," also, in that it serves as study hall for all students except those in Band, Pep Squad, or athletics, supervised by a teacher, each period. This year, fifth and sixth period study halls were so large they overflowed to another room, alternating use of the library. In addition, the library is open both before and after school.

ABOVE, Arthur Villafranca and Irene Ramirez have found that learning to use the card catalog is a vital part of school work, useful in all areas.

The AAHPER (American Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation) Youth Fitness Program is the direct result of the 1956 White House Conference on the Fitness of American Youth by President Eisenhower. The AAHPER took the lead and planned a Youth Fitness Project. Over one hundred leaders in the field of Physical Education met and agreed on the battery of seven tests. The test items were tested on a nation-wide basis and in 1958 the AAHPER YOUTH FITNESS TEST was completed and standards of performance were established. Percentile tables were arranged by age groups so that individuals were able to compare their performances on a national basis. These percentile tables covered the performance of children of both sexes from ages 6 through 17.

South San Antonio High School is now participating in the AAHPER YOUTH FITNESS TEST program in that we are using this program to seek out the physically "unfit" as well as those of desirable physical standing. We set out to improve the physical status of those "unfit" as well as to improve the physical condition of the students of higher physical ability.

Students are given a progressive and systematic system of calisthenics and conditioning exercises throughout the year. This, along with team sports is designed to aid the student in reaching and maintaining the desired level of physical fitness. The seven test items are: Pullups, situps, standing broadjump, shuttle run, 50 yard dash, softball throw for distance, and 600 yard run-walk. These tests are given at the beginning of the school year, again at mid-term, and just before the close of school. The results are compiled and compared with each of the other tests. We look to find an improvement over the school year.

The Guidance Program is organized to assist the pupils, the school staff, and the community. Their major objectives are:

1. To help the student understand himself, his abilities, aptitudes, interests, and achievements.
2. To challenge the student to do planning and thinking and to put purpose into his educational effort.
3. To provide information that will help the pupil and his parents in planning relative to personal, educational, and vocational objectives.
4. To provide a testing program with results to be used by teachers for a better understanding of student capabilities, better selections of school curriculum, and better choice of vocational objectives.
5. To provide a counseling program to assist students in solving educational, vocational, social and emotional adjustment problems, including specific information for the college-bound.
6. To provide the administration with information pertinent to curriculum planning.

Individual Needs

The Special Education Program has developed into an intregral part of the Texas Public Schools.

The curriculum for educable retarded is based on a philosophy of individual difference in pupil growth and development. The program is so structured that each pupil may progress at his own rate of development without comparison to theoretical norms or others in his group. It is free of grade level stigmas and expected annual promotions. The program is a separate and distinctive curriculum track. Seven sequential levels of development are utilized in lieu of the twelve traditional grades of the public schools. A child may enter this program when he becomes eligible for public school attendance, and follow it to graduation. A high school diploma may be issued to educable students upon satisfactory completion of the seven levels of development.

At the high school level the emphasis is on learning a job. The job training may be for part day or full day. Emphasis is on vocational evaluation, planning, and suitable job training. The Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, through a vocational counselor, provides service to the student at this level through cooperative effort with the local school.

When the student has proven himself capable of holding a job and has completed the seven levels of the curriculum, he is eligible for graduation.

In addition, the students who take care of daily attendance records and other office work, supervised by a member of the Business Education department, are to be commended for their efforts.

Honorary

When we work hard, we receive much satisfaction and many rewards. Some of these rewards are in the form of trophies, such as the one pictured here. Organizations and individuals alike are honored throughout the school year for their achievements.

A part of the rewards of school is receiving honors for outstanding work. Each individual, club, and organization strives at all times to present to those who may be judging their achievements. An occasion of great honor to the school newspaper, THE BOBCAT, is captured for future memories as Mrs. Mayers, sponsor, accepts a "Certificate of Appreciation" for outstanding service in improving community health in the fight against tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases.

Honors

MR. AND MISS BOBCAT

WHO'S WHO

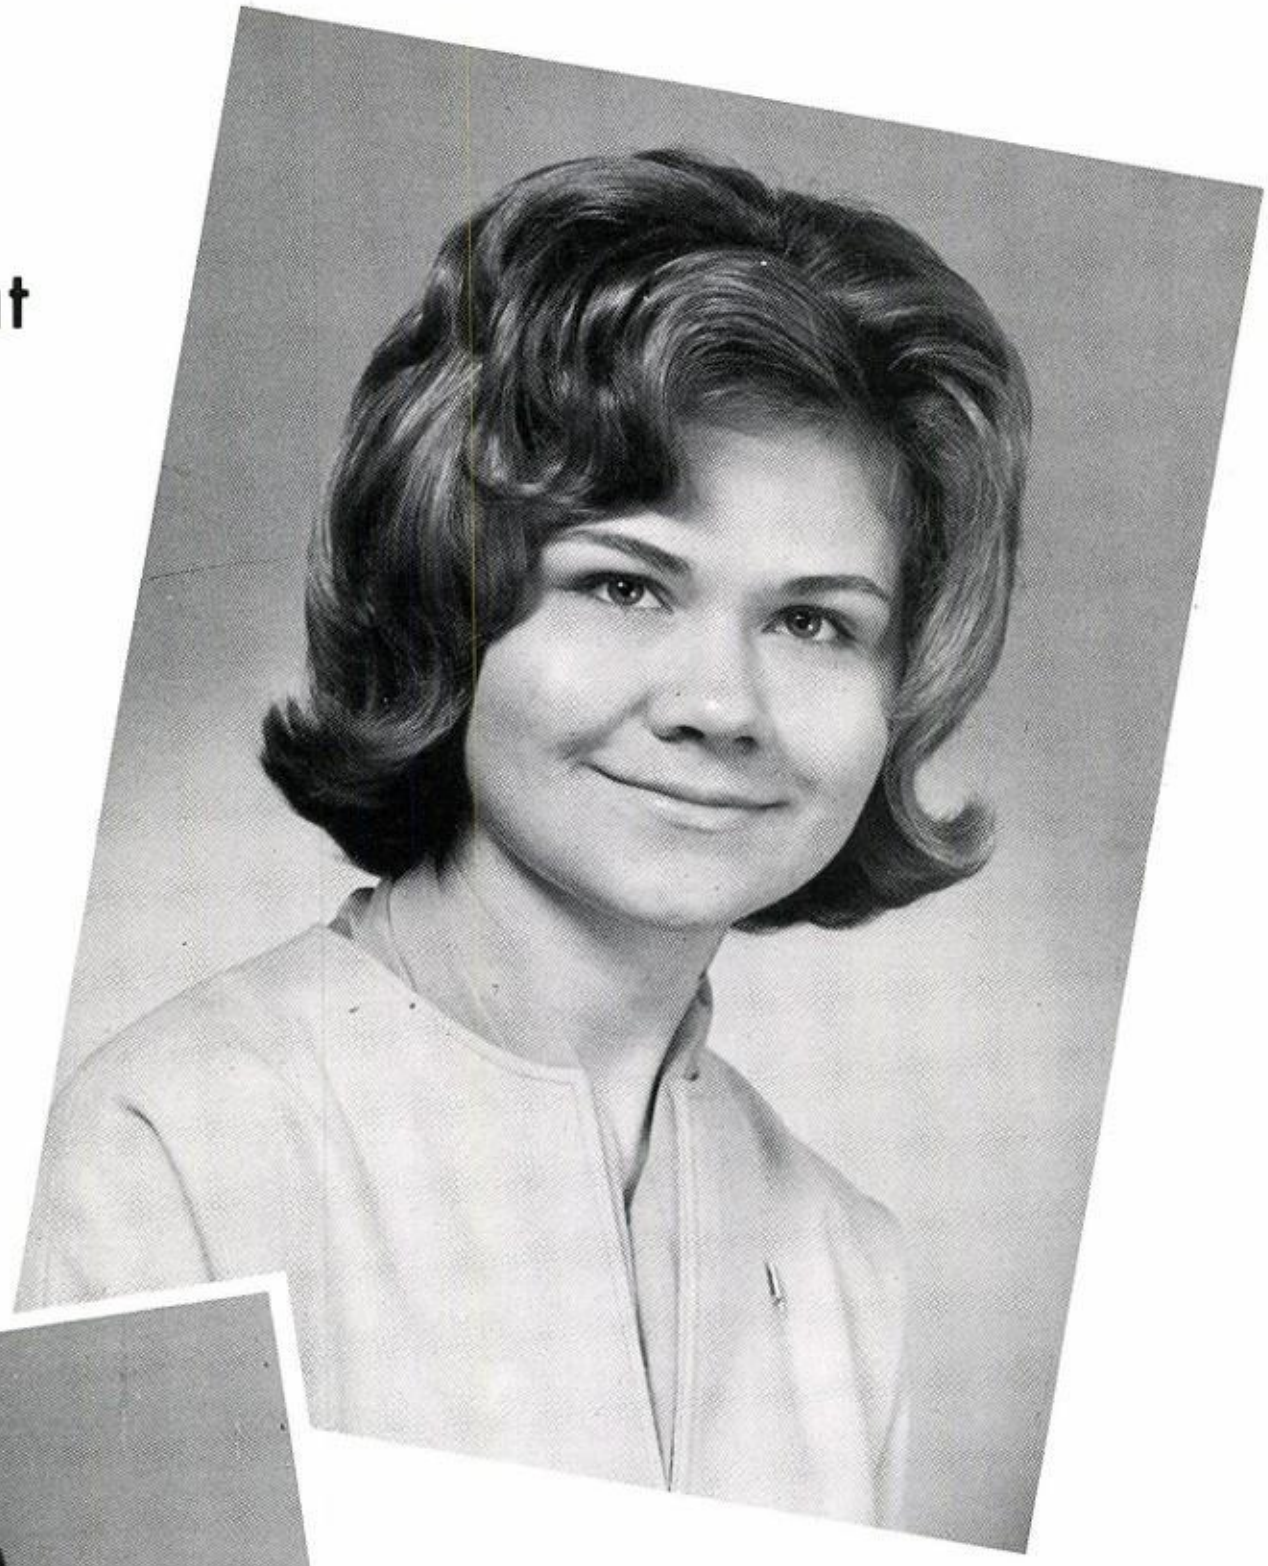
SIX-POINTERS

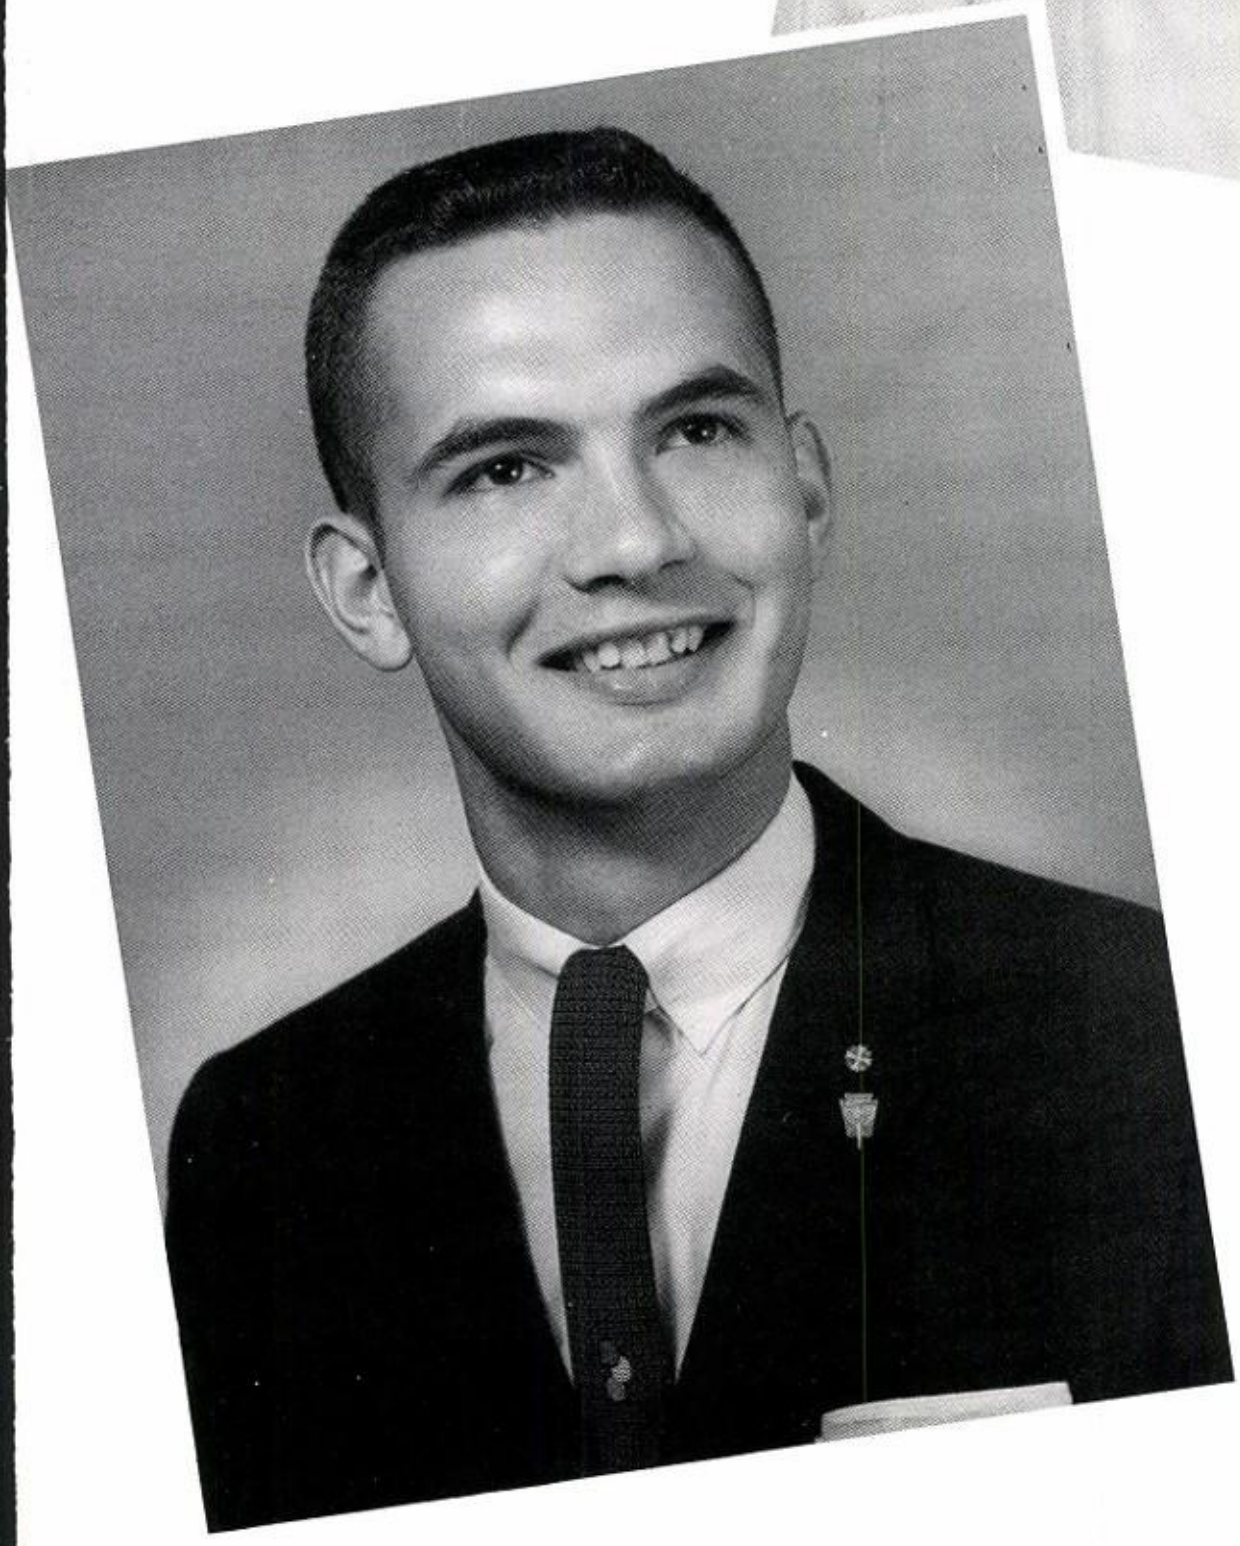
Editor's Note: These Honors students were selected by the faculty shortly after mid-term, in order to meet publisher's deadline; thus, choices are those who were outstanding at that time and not necessarily the same as at the end of the school year.

Mr. & Miss Bobcat

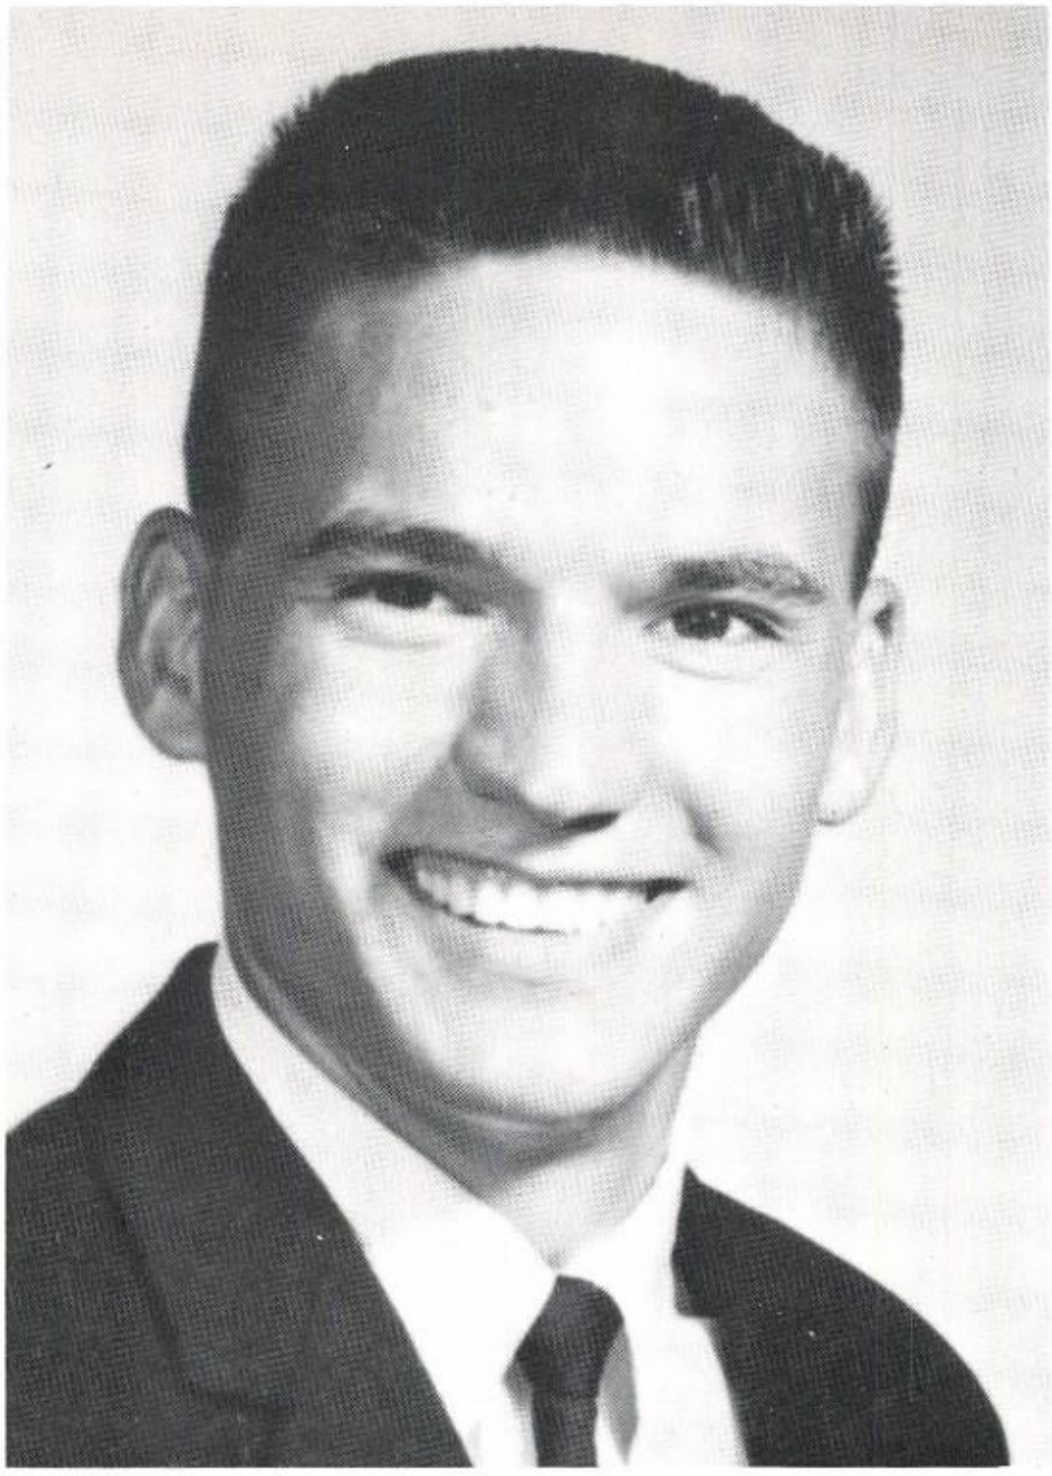
DORIS FRITZ

KENNETH GRAY





Mr. and Miss Bobcat are selected annually by the faculty as our most outstanding seniors. These two students are representative of all that South San Antonio schools hold high: Scholarship, Character, Service, Participation, and Leadership.



ALAN MORRIS

Who's Who in Citizenship

Each month, the Student Council sponsors the selection of two Citizens-of-the-Month, chosen by the faculty. These students are given special recognition and awarded certificates in assembly. Later, the faculty selects the outstanding citizen from this group as "Who's Who in Citizenship." Citizens-of-the-Month are rated on conduct, courtesy, school service, leadership, and other such worthy attributes which make up the ideal school citizen.

Hall of Fame Presented for 1964

Dennis Alexander and Bobby Emerson mystify the crowd with their magic antics.

Each year, the yearbook staff sponsors a Hall of Fame election. The recipients of these honors are announced at an assembly. Honorees are Juniors & Seniors only. This year a talent show was presented to entertain these personalities. Yolanda Garcia added spark to the show through a lively Latin Dance. Lucy Collins sang one of her beautiful songs and also played a rhythmic number on the piano. Dennis Alexander & Bobby Emerson entertained with magic antics, while "Bailey and the Jokers" ended the program with several pop tunes, much to the students' delight.

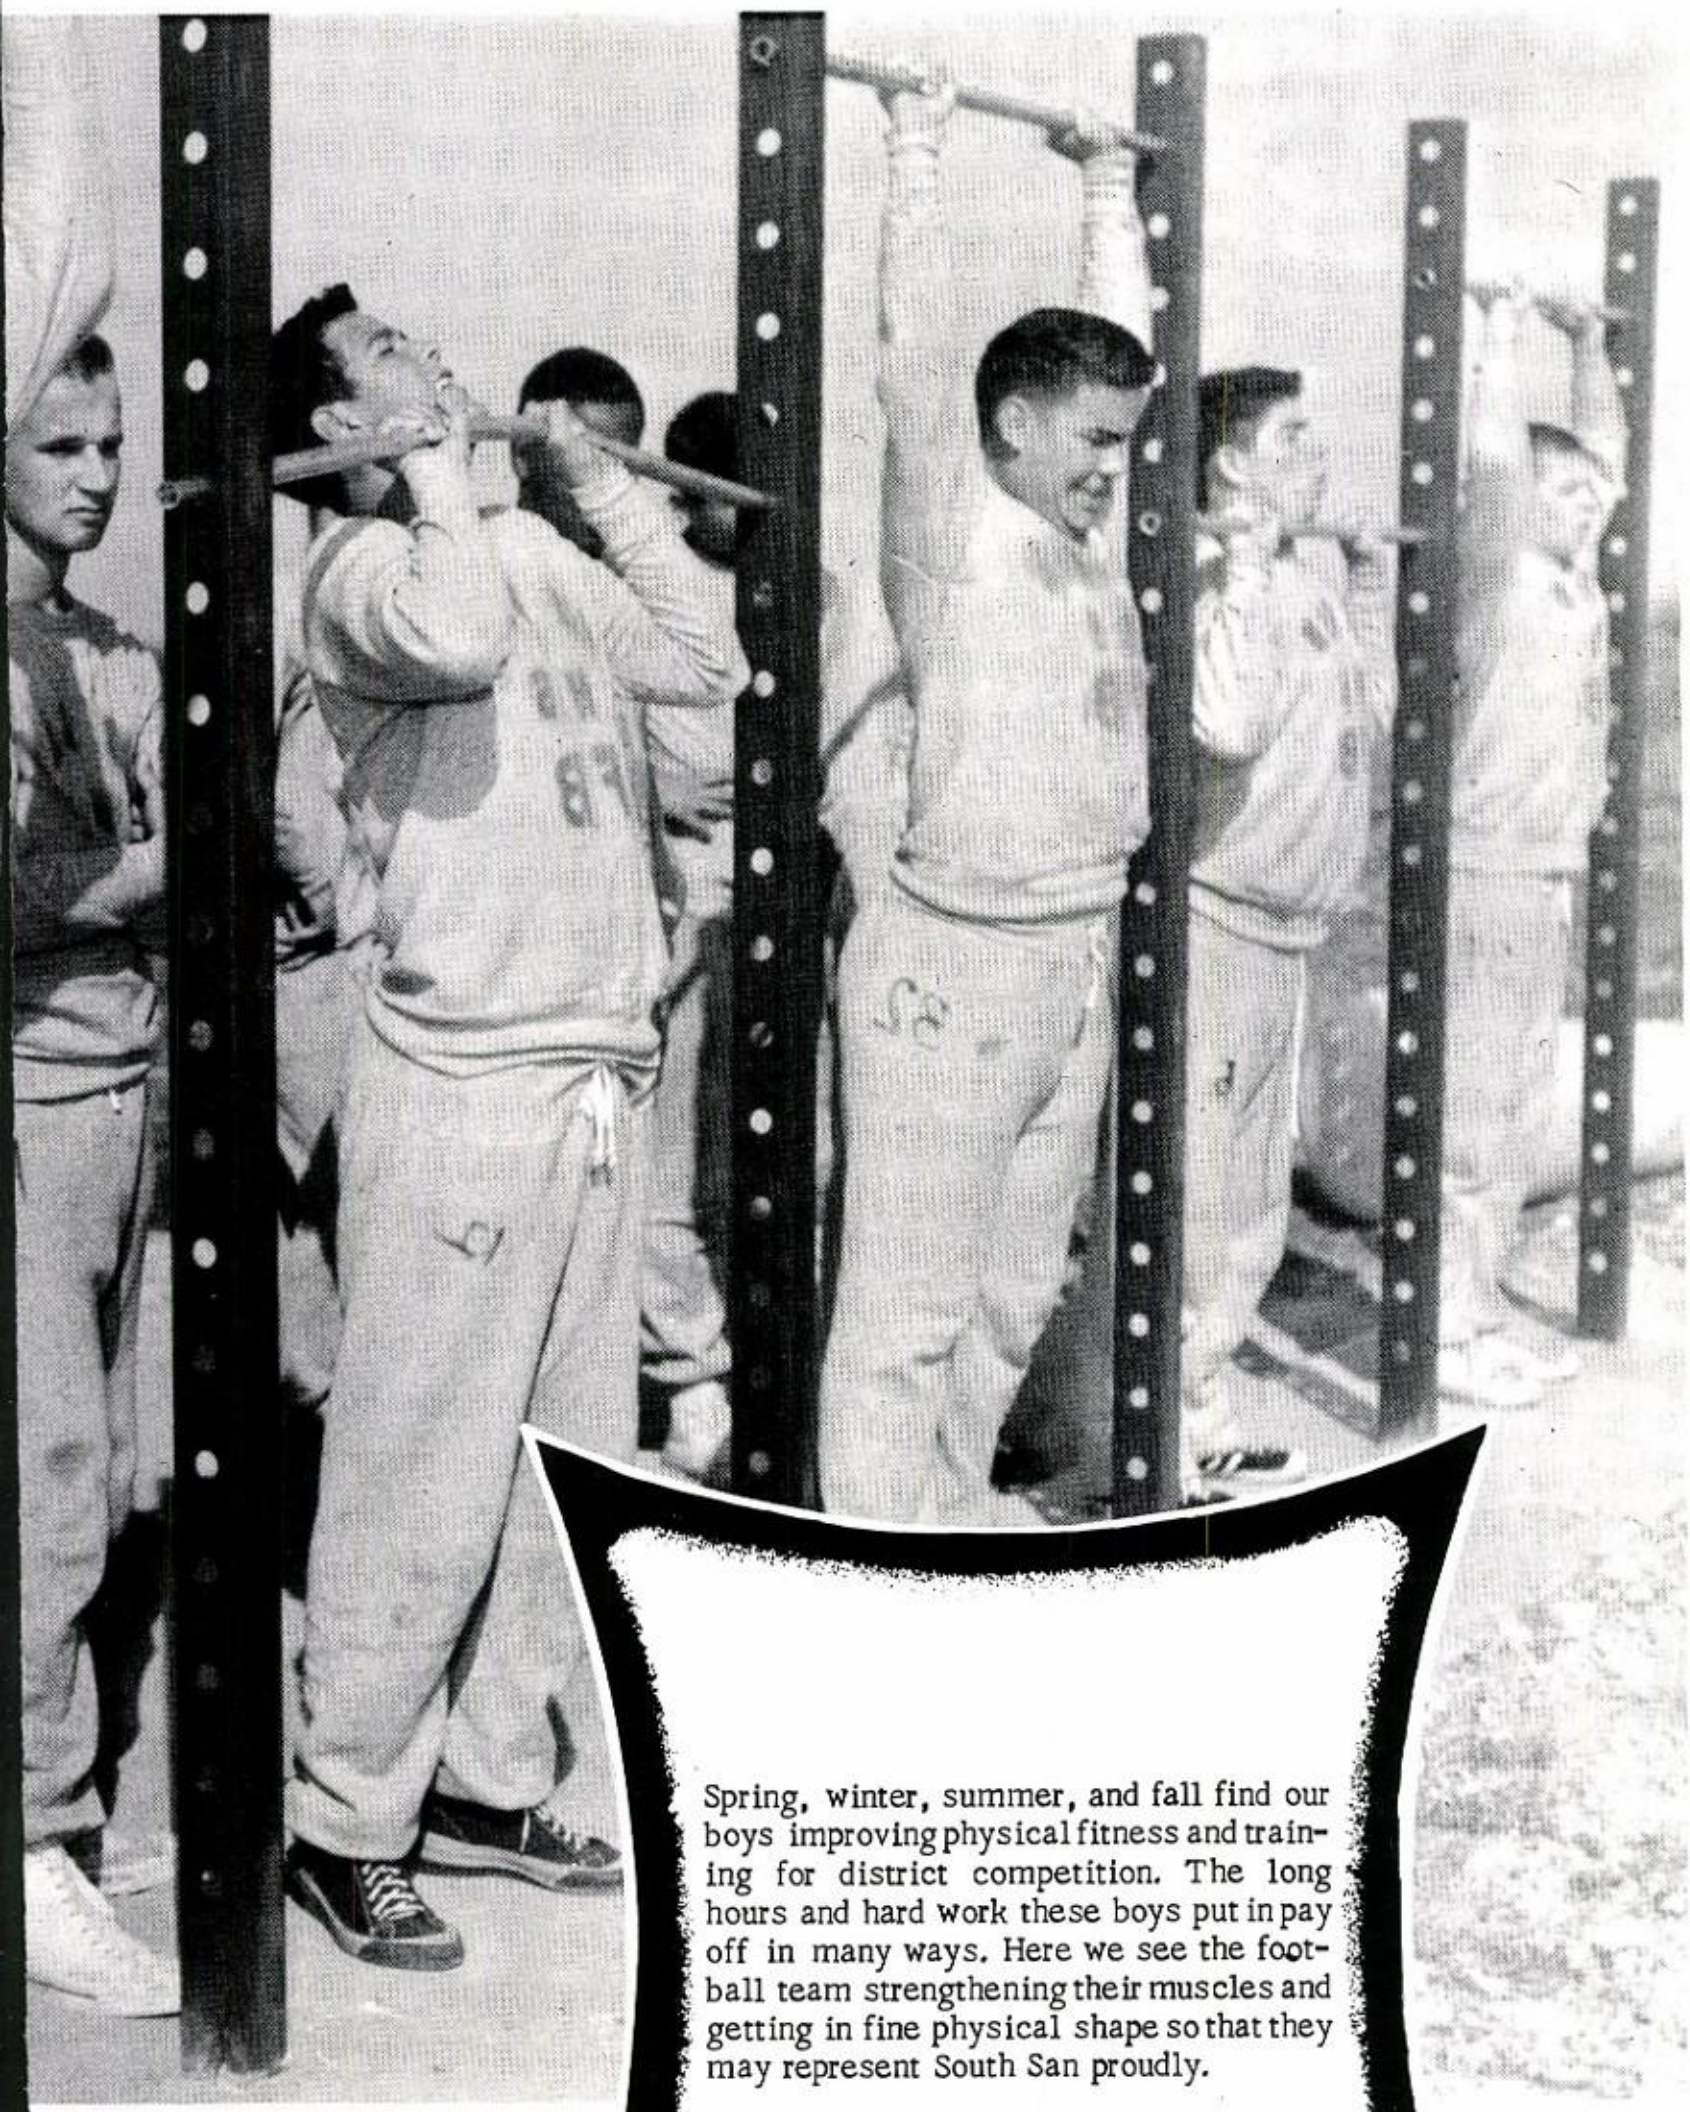
Physical

This trophy represents a lot of hard work, team work, and skill. Each team at South San strives to be good competitors and do their best for the team. We are honored to have a showcase full of trophies such as this one representing such characteristics.



Spring, winter, summer, and fall find our boys improving physical fitness and training for district competition. The long hours and hard work these boys put in pay off in many ways. Here we see the football team strengthening their muscles and getting in fine physical shape so that they may represent South San proudly.

Bobcats Start Season Right

Johnston Bows

Lead by the hard running of Mike Carroll and Jim Herren, So. San trounced Austin Johnston 32-14 to win their second game of the season. Behind only once, the Bobcats didn't slow down once they caught up with the Rams.

Cherokees Scalped

With the Cherokees favored to win, the Bobcats came out on top, 6-0 on a fine defensive game climaxed by a 62-yard touchdown run by Rodney Gammans on a pass interception.

Bobcats Corral Rams

The Bobcats battled the Rams for three scoreless periods before the Rams gave way to the thrusts of the mighty Bobcats, 14-0. The Bobcats scored their first TD on a 1-yard plunge by Jim Herren. The two-point conversion by Lightsey made it 8-0. With 1:55 left in the game Carroll zipped 51 yards for the second TD, after a Ram touchdown was called back. This victory accomplished three things for the Bobcats: gave them the 15-AAA title, gave them their first perfect football season, and advanced them to the state playoffs for the second year in a row.

Jim Herren, one of our football stars, receives a Ram Cake, which were given to all players during lunch.

Antlers Go Down

South San clinched at least a tie for the 15AAA title by beating Kerrville 34-7 at Bobcat Stadium. The Bobcats, now 9-0, scored in second quarter after having slushed through the first quarter in a muddy field. The Bobcats then scored 22 points in the third quarter to complete the scoring.

Bobcats Claw Coyotes

With Mike Carroll in the lead, the Bobcats blanked the Uvalde Coyotes, 36-0, for their sixth victory against no defeats. The Bobcats scored in the first quarter on a 54-yard dash by Carroll to start the scoring and proceeded to score in every period.

Co-Captains Lead District Win

Co-Captains Mike Carroll, "Sonny" Contreras, and Mike Carnahan led the Bobcats to victory in District 15-AAA for the second year in a row. Going into the state play-offs undefeated, the Bobcats saw their record of 10-0 blemished 21-0, however, by the Pharr-San Juan-Alamo Bears. With the Bears scoring after having received, the Bobcats fumbled the ball away five times in the first half, one going for a Bear score and a 14-0 halftime lead. In the third period, the Bears scored again to complete the scoring.

JAMES STAROSTA

1946-1964

The South San Antonio community was shocked by the passing away of James Starosta after a collision of two vehicles in San Antonio. James was a member of the South San Antonio High School basketball team, and was a starter early in the season.

James was out for basketball since the seventh grade and had lots of natural ability that was still to be used. A hard worker and good competitor in whatever he was doing, James was a credit to the team. He will always be remembered in South San Antonio.

Silver Anniversary of Tournament

This year, the South San Antonio annual Basketball Tournament celebrated its 25th year. The tournament was started in 1938, by Coach Frank Runnells. The tournament began with sixteen teams in competition and is one of the few tournaments in the state that still has sixteen teams attending annually. The tournament is open to all divisions but usually class 2A, 3A, and 4A teams are the ones entering. The South San Tournament has always had good competition and offered lots of entertainment. The people of the South Texas area look forward to coming, seeing, and participating in this fine tournament.

Teams from all over Texas come to play in the tournament. The team that traveled the longest distance is Big Spring High School, from the West Texas area. Other teams have been Baytown, Brownsville, Weslaco, Austin, Lampasas, Killeen, Eagle Pass, Uvalde and many in the immediate San Antonio area.

South San Antonio in the last ten years has been giving four trophies for the winner's division and consolation bracket. An outstanding player is picked with ten all-tournament selections; also, gifts are presented to the winning coaches.

The South San Antonio Bobcats have advanced to the finals for the last ten years, winning five championships and runner-up five times. Plans are being made now for a bigger and better tournament for 1964-65.

The Bobcats met San Marcos at New Braunfels for the regional AAA title for the fifth straight year. The Bobcats were seeking a seventh straight trip to the state finals in Austin. Putting poise and experience against speed, the Bobcats, led by senior All-State Larry Black and junior Phil Dugger with 21 and 26 points respectively, downed the Rattlers 71-59 for a berth in the state finals. South San had advanced to the regional playoff by defeating the Robstown Cottonpickers 50-45, at Victoria.

South San Makes Baseball History

The South San Antonio Bobcat baseball team will be gunning for a tenth consecutive district title in 1964, with ultimate hopes of a fifth state 3-A championship. The Bobcats won their first state championship in 1958 and repeated in 1959. They were thwarted by Seguin in 1960 but bounced back to win it all again in 1961. After losing out to Robert E. Lee (Northeast District) in bi-district, the Bobcats again became state champions in 1963. The 1964 edition of the baseball Bobcats will have several returning starters off last year's team around which to build.

Coach Cliff Gustafson, who will be in his eleventh year at South San Antonio, and his tenth as Head Baseball Coach, is hopeful of fielding another winning team in 1964. He feels that the tremendous spirit and fine tradition the Bobcats exhibit, not only in baseball, but in all other activities as well, will be a big factor toward attaining their goal in 1964.

Bobcats are pictured here as they took part in the 1963 University Interscholastic League Regional play-off game against La Vega, of Waco.

The golf team played two matches a week, starting in early March at Willow Springs golf course; the opposition was drawn from city schools. This went on until mid-April. In addition, the team played in several tournaments. On March 2, they competed in a tournament at Canyon Creek Country Club, in San Antonio. They also participated in a tournament at Kerrville and then in April, the District 15 AAA golf tournament was held at Uvalde.

The outstanding prospects seemed to be Bernard Robbins, a transfer who was "#1 boy." Robert Devora, James Cuff, and Dickie Rios rounded out the team. They received strong competition for starting berths from Arthur Dominguez and Wade Taylor, however.

Organizational

The Student Council is one of the many working organizations at South San; above, Terry Horton guides his committee in preparing the student directory. A student handbook, a dance, a newspaper, a working library are a few of the products of these clubs and organizations.

Many of our organizations represent our school in city, district, regional, and state competition. These girls, for instance, represent South San Antonio's Homemaking classes in the annual city-wide Vegetable Day Queen Contest. Not unlike the sports teams, organizational "teams" enter competitions to do their best. Helpful, entertaining, and educational organizations are a major part of South San's school life.

Outstanding School Organization

The highstepping Bobcat Band could be called the height of school spirit at South San Antonio High School. Long before the school year opens, the band is working hard in summer band toward making the year a success. When football season starts, the band cheers the football team to victory and entertains during halftime. The end of football season does not end practice, for the band. Under the direction of Mr. Meads, it continues to practice, only this time it is to make a good showing at the University Interscholastic League Marching Contest, held in the first week of December. The hard work was reflected when they returned with a "first" in marching. Later, they were preparing for Concert Contest in March.

"May I help you?" might be the theme song of the Library Club, as the group is made up entirely of library student assistants. Some eighty strong, these boys and girls voluntarily gave up their study hall to work behind the circulation desk, checking books, magazines and newspapers in and out, helping the librarian process books, filing cards, etc. Since the librarian does not have clerical help, these students relieve her of many time-consuming tasks, and their assistance is indispensable.

The club is affiliated with the Teen-Age Library Association, and highlights of the school year are the district and state conventions. Money-making projects to help defray convention expenses include selling paperback books (ABOVE) and ball-point pens.

The Student Council has as its purpose to develop leadership, train in democratic living, serve the school and student body.

In developing leadership, various delegates attend local and state conventions and the summer workshop. Ideas gained here are brought back to better the council and the school.

Practice in democratic living is given in weekly meetings of the council, the taking up and carrying out of projects, working in committees, collecting and handling money.

The council handles such projects as selling Bobcat "decals" and student directories, providing collections for a Christmas basket for a needy family, the United Fund, Teens Against Polio drive, handling the student election, the raising of the flag, the honor roll, and many others, some of a social nature.

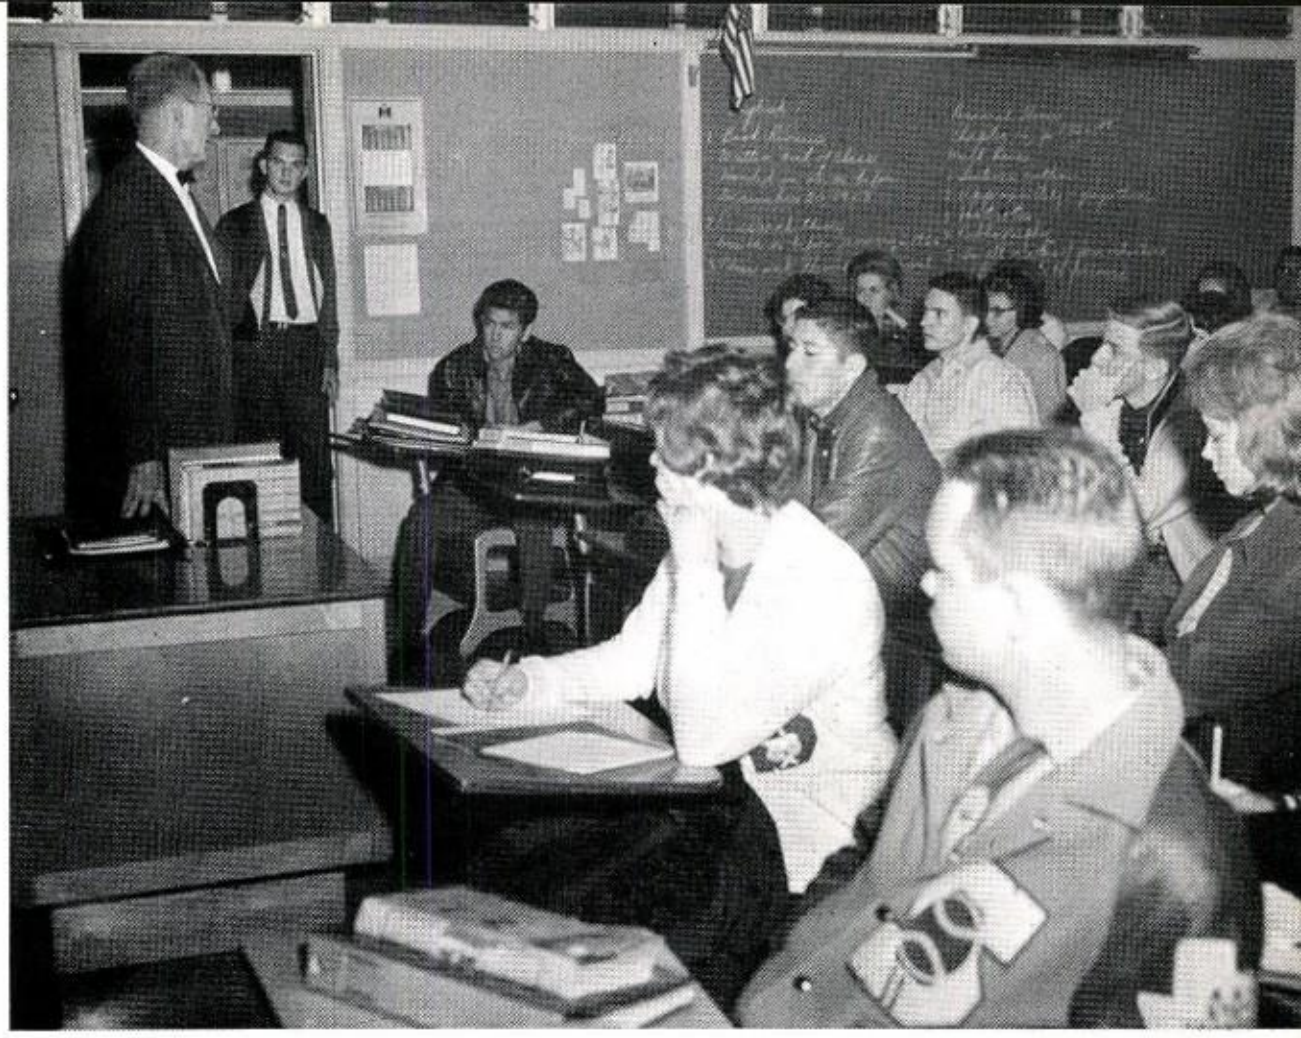
Following fall initiation ceremonies, NHS members lead the student body in singing the school song.

Standards

A junior or senior with a grade average of 88 or above is considered by the high school faculty for qualities of service, leadership, and character, the principles on which membership is based. The Society is affiliated with and sponsored by the national organization.

This year, NHS, with Kenneth Gray as president, has actively participated in the San Antonio Area Council. South San Antonio NHS holds the office of secretary-treasurer.

Members present a program at each meeting and enjoy a social function, each semester.



Wednesday meetings offer outstanding programs.

CAT TALE Staff Has a Busy, Busy Nine Months

The CAT TALE captures in vivid picture form the true spirit of school life. It serves as a diary of the memorable events which occur every year. As an album of pictures of school friends, it will be treasured for years to come.

There is no job in our school any more demanding than developing a yearbook; correspondingly, we feel there is no job which, when finished, gives one greater satisfaction.

The staff hopes that this edition will be one students enjoy owning as much as they enjoyed putting it out for them.

Mr. John Sandidge, publisher's representative, gives the staff pointers in choosing a cover which will be effective and attractive.

Although an incredible amount of effort is involved in putting out a yearbook, the staff enjoys working and having a good time together.

This club is one of the most active in school. It has a large membership with people interested not only in nursing but also related health fields.

This year, the chapter worked hard to fulfill the purposes of the club. They have created interest and explored the various medical fields; they have gone to the State Psychiatric Hospital, the Aerospace Medical Division at Brooks Air Force Base, and Baptist Memorial Hospital. They also had Mrs. Mattie Davis, a registered nurse, come and give a lecture on the different educational programs for nurses, including the one-year vocational nursing programs, the three-year diploma program, and degree program. Last summer, many of the members did volunteer work at hospitals in the area, working either as Gray Ladies or Candy Stripers.

The South San Antonio Chapter of Future Homemakers of America has had a busy year with their many activities. The first semester highlights were: Installation of officers and Induction of New members at their first social function in the Homemaking Department in October. Six FHA members were selected from a number of applicants to participate in the Vegetable Day Queen Contest, in November. Two FHA members entered the Opti-Mrs. Clothing Contest and attended the banquet at La Villita.

On November 13 was the FHA Executives' Dinner in the private dining room at Luby's Cafeteria. Mrs. Mary Jo Willings was our guest speaker for the second year in succession. Her subject was "Family Living."

Margaret Quinn, President, and Betty Hammond, second Vice-President, assisted Mrs. Zellner and Mrs. McKinley as hostesses of the Annual Meeting of Region II, of the American and Texas Home Economics Association with a coffee, Saturday, November 16.

Also in November, one hundred stamped, unsealed, unaddressed new Christmas cards were contributed by the FHA members to the San Antonio State Hospital patients to send to their friends and relatives. This was a state project.

The Annual Simplicity style show for all girls in High School was a February event with FHA girls modeling the costumes brought from New York by the commentator, who was from the Simplicity Pattern Company of New York.

Another FHA compliment to all South San girls was the demonstration of hair styles given by a local beauty college, in an assembly in February. A Valentine Party for FHA members was held, February 13, in the Homemaking Department.

Community work by FHA girls was visiting a home for the aged and taking gifts to them in March. On March 26, an Easter party was lots of fun. The FHA members dyed Easter eggs and took them to a childrens' home for their Easter Egg Hunt.

In May, the chapter climaxed the year with a party and conferred Degrees of Achievement in FHA upon those girls who had worked hard for this honor.

The South San Antonio "S" Club is the varsity sports lettermen's organization of the High School. The lettermen in school are the only one eligible to participate in the club. There are annual dues of 50¢ a semester which entitles the lettermen to attend varsity games free of charge. The club sponsors a Bar-B-Q Dinner and an informal dance for the members and their dates.

The club purchased a special projector to show films for the athletes during their seasonal sport. They also buy magazines, flowers for the sick, and perform special duties within the school.

The "S" Club source of income comes from two projects: the football programs and the dues from members of the organization.

Tomorrow's Teachers

The Future Teachers of America is an organization which promotes interest in the field of teaching. It includes service to teachers, friends and community. It also cultivates good character in each individual member.

The Hugh C. Gray Chapter of Future Teachers follows a busy schedule all through the year. Its cake sales help to furnish a scholarship to a senior member. Members vote for the student they feel is most deserving, and the senior receiving the most votes receives the scholarship.

Members are encouraged to enter the Mr. & Miss FTA contest, held each year on a statewide basis. They prepare a 3-minute speech which is delivered at the annual district convention; winners go on to state competition. South San's entries for this year were Alba Ortiz and Ernest Patino.

Other activities include a Christmas social, a spring banquet, visits to local colleges, and school dances.

"Early morning practice at 7:30." These words are echoed nearly every day to the Bobcadet Pep Squad, one of the most famous organizations on the school campus.

The Bobcadets, a service group, is known for its imaginative drills on the football field, and its enthusiastic school spirit.

This year, a new division has been added to the Pep Squad, called a trainee group (BELOW), consisting mainly of freshman girls. Along with the varsity Pep Squad, they play an important part in boosting school spirit.

The Bobcadets include in their activities a Mother-Daughter Banquet, marching in the Fiesta parade, and community service such as collecting money for muscular dystrophy. Their chief money-making projects are the selling of candy and school pennants.

The Drill Team, an elite section of the Bobcadets, entertains the audience with dance routines at basketball game half-times. (LOWER RIGHT).

From the Editor

Just as the band is led on the field and led off the field, so must this 1963-64 school year be guided in and out, in various ways. The goal of the yearbook staff has been to sum this year up in picture form. Much of the meaning of any annual is afforded those who spend most of their time during the year of its production planning its pictures, ideas, and layouts; writing copy; and putting it all together in many pictures and even more words.

An annual is only as good as the staff behind it and this year's group gave not only of their time but wholly of their personalities to make this book a personal triumph for each. To each of the staff members I give my heartfelt "thanks" for solid work, work, work. Without Mrs. Marianna Jones, our sponsor, to fall back on with our mistakes and problems, the book would never have come out.

The 1964 CAT TALE has been ours, and now it is yours. May you get as much enjoyment in reading it as we have had in creating it.

Sincerely,

Billie Howell
